Attorney says 'no' to council's order

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — An order approved by the City Council on Tuesday is not likely to be obeyed.

The City Council ordered Assistant City Attorney John Hopkins to seek fines against developer Ronald White, of St. Louis, for allegedly violating the city's zoning ordinance. Hopkins also directed to seek an injunction to block occupancy of apartments White built at 27th and Adams streets.

But Hopkins said Wednesday the council does not have authority to make such an order. He was not present Tuesday night.

"No" was Hopkins' answer to a reporter's question about whether he would meet the council's request.

"I'm not going to do anything because of any motion of the City Council," Hopkins said. "It's obviously an attempt to usurp executive authority."

He said aldermen went "way beyond their scope" with the order. It passed 10-4, with Aldermen Hank Miller, Milton and Morien dissenting.

Fourth Ward Alderman Dan Partney made the motion necessary grading and administrative costs, engineering fees and capitalized interest on the bonds.

$3.3 million bond issue proposition for Pontoon

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — Village trustees are preparing the way to authorize issuance of $3,385,000 in redevelopment project bonds for development of Chouteau Trace I at Illinois 111 and Interstate 270.

First reading of the ordinance authorizing the bond issue was approved unanimously, 6-0, at Tuesday's board meeting. The measure could be adopted at the Oct. 13 session.

The $3,385,000 appropriated amount would be financed by village bonds, secured by special tax allocation funds. It would not become the general obligation of the village as initially had been proposed.

If given final approval, the bonds would finance acquisition of land for public use, construction and improvement of streets, installation of sewer and water and storm drainage facilities, necessary grading and administrative costs, engineering fees and capitalized interest on the bonds.

No discussion or comments about the proposed bond issue (See PONTON, Page 8A)

CLASS OF 2000: Kindergarten students from Frohardt Elementary School enjoy a program Tuesday night

honoring the high school graduating class of 2000. About 1,200 people attended the event.

Class of 2000 honored at program

GRANITE CITY — The Class of 2000 gathered at Granite City High School on Tuesday night, but not to graduate.

Class members, all District 9 kindergarten students, participated in a program sponsored by the Area PTA Council in the gymnasium. The program was conducted to encourage the 633 kindergarten pupils of the district's nine elementary schools to stay in school and graduate, said Superintendent Gih Walmsley. An additional purpose was to dedicate the children, their parents and the district to preparation for the next century.

About 1,200 people attended. Each pupil wore a "Class of 2000"

T-shirt presented by the PTA.

Pictures of the individual classes were taken and will be put into a time capsule along with the program for the event, each child's name, a videotape of the event, and a self-portrait drawn by each child, Walmsley said. The same items will be included in the capsule for kindergarten students enrolled in Granite City parochial schools, he said.

The time capsule will be stored in a vault in the Board of Education office, 20th and Adams streets, and will be opened when the pupils graduate in June 2000, Walmsley said.

One of the T-shirts was presented to Walmsley at the program by (See 2000, Page 8A)

Water line work begins

MADISON — Installation work began at 9 a.m. today on the water line extension to Gate-Midstate Truck Plaza at Illinois 203 near Interstate 55-70.

Bland Construction Co. and Amco Plumbing Co. were awarded a contract for $115,000 on July 28 for the project.

Madison Mayor John Bellecoff, city aldermen, representatives of Illinois-American Water Co. and contractors met at the intersection of Illinois 203 and Bend Road to begin the work.

The truck plaza is located in Madison, in St. Clair County. The plaza was annexed by the city in 1984.

Parking lot work paid from sale of old buildings

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Resurfacing work on parking lots at Granite City High School and Coolidge Junior High School was funded from the sale of some vacated District 9 schools.

Ron Landman, the district's director of buildings and grounds, said questions have been asked concerning how the resurfacing work was funded. The district is faced with a possible $2.2 million deficit budget for fiscal 1988.

"Evidently some of the tax payers and employees are not aware that the money was set aside in the building fund from the sale of old buildings ... to be used for improvements, maintenance and repairs of all our buildings," Landman said.

He said $228,000 was budgeted from the sale of the former Johnson Elementary School and $500,000 from the former Granite City High School North, which is now Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College.

During the last few years, Landman said, the money was used for resurfacing all elementary school parking lots and various playgrounds and several other projects including fire and burglar alarms at Prather Elementary School, bleachers at the high school, and a boiler/hot water heater project at Coolidge and the high school.

Blacktopping work at the high school is expected to be completed today. Landman said. Sealing of the Grand Avenue circle and the rear high school lot will be done early next month, he said.

FLOOD WEARY: Metro East Sanitary District Director Shang Greathouse, center, listens to the Rev. Buck Jones, who heads an East St. Louis group, Helping Other People Emerge (HOPE), led about 20 persons to the MESD office in Granite City yesterday. They expressed their concern about floodgate repairs at MESD's East St. Louis pump station.

Pickets at MESD office

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A sign read, "Don't Let It Happen Again," as about 20 East St. Louis residents protested in front of the Metro East Sanitary District office at 18th Street and Madison Avenue.

The group, led by the Rev. Buck Jones of East St. Louis, were at MESD on Wednesday to express their concern over MESD's use of a temporary floodgate at the district's East St. Louis pump station.

Last year, a gate broke, sending river water into East St. Louis neighborhoods. MESD is currently using a temporary steel gate until a permanent gate, which has been ordered, is installed.

Greathouse has said the temporary gate is adequate to hold back high water until the gate is replaced.

"We're going to make sure Mr. Greathouse keeps his word and gets the gate in there. Personally, I'm not assured" the gate is adequate, said Jones.

"People are apprehensive." The gate may be replaced in the spring, Greathouse said.

Legislators fail to end campaign fund filibuster

By David Rocks
P.R.N. Washington bureau

WASHINGTON — Here are Illinois legislators' positions on the major votes in Congress in the past week.

The following are Senate votes:

Campaign finance

The Senate, by a vote of 51-44, for the seventh time this year did not end a Republican filibuster on a measure that would call for voluntary limits on campaign spending, provide some federal financing for senatorial elections, and limit campaign contributions by political action committees; 60 votes are needed to end the filibuster.

Dixon (D)..... Yes
Simon (D)..... Yes

Star Wars, I

The Senate tabled, 50-38, and thus effectively killed, an amendment to the Department of Defense authorization bill that would have stricken a clause restricting tests of the Strategic Defense Initiative (SDI), also known as "Star Wars", a space-based missile defense system. A yes vote is a vote to table the amendment. (S 1174)

Dixon (D)..... Yes
Simon (D)..... Absent

Star Wars, II

The Senate approved, 61-32, an amendment to the Department of Defense authorization bill that would allow foreign contractors to share in Star Wars research only if their governments pay a "substantial" share of the cost. (S 1174)

Dixon (D)..... Yes
Simon (D)..... No

The following measures were voted on in the House:

Textile, apparel trade

The House approved, 263-156, a bill that would set textile and clothing import quotas, freezing them at 1986 levels, and allowing annual increases of 1 percent for all trading partners. (HR 1154)

Durbin (D)..... Yes
Gray (D)..... Yes

On home tour Sunday

MR. AND MRS. PHIL JOHNSON relaxing in the living room of their renovated apartment, part of the Sept. 27 home tour. The room has been redecorated in subtle shades of apricot. The divan is covered in apricot velvet and is placed to face the oak-framed, ceramic-brick fireplace, focal point of the room. Woodwork at the windows has been refinished and is accented by the use of mini-blinds. Other furnishings in the room are of antique vintage. The apartment is included on the house tour, sponsored by the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society, set for Sunday from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Resident becomes victim of deception

GRANITE CITY — A 78-year-old Granite City woman is the latest victim in a theft by deception scheme.

Elizabeth Gargac said she was inside K mart, 3655 Nameoki Road, on Tuesday when she was approached by two black females in their late 40s.

Gargac said Wednesday that the women told her they had found more than $150,000 and didn't know what to do with it.

When Gargac suggested giving the money to police, the women reportedly suggested meeting an attorney named Weinstein at Schnuck's Supermarket, 3801 Nameoki Road.

"There is no Mr. Weinstein,"

Detective Jeff Parker said Wednesday.

On the pretense that Gargac could claim some of the money if its owner was not found, the women said Weinstein told them that Gargac should put up $6,000.

They took her money to the Schnuck's store so serial numbers could be photocopied as a safety precaution, Gargac said.

While there, one woman left Gargac to make the photocopies while the other left under the excuse of going to the bathroom.

The women did not return.

"We won't ever get that money back," Gargac said.

The same scene was conducted earlier this week on another person in Belleville, Parker said. Gargac said one of the pair was about 6 feet tall, 180 pounds, and wore a black dress. The other woman was about 5 feet tall, 145 pounds, and wore a black and orange dress.

Parker requested that anyone who may have seen the women at the K mart or Schnuck store to call him at 876-9027.

Water firm announces two telephone hotlines

Effective Sept. 28, all customers of the Interurban District (Belleville, East St. Louis and Granite City) of Illinois-American Water Co. will be able to call a telephone number for complete information and service.

The telephone hotline numbers are: 1-800-422-2782 for customers outside the Belleville area and 277-9887 for Belleville area customers.

"A new computer system gives water company representatives instant access to a customer's account for quick answers and accurate solutions to customer questions," a spokesman said.

For payment of bills, the water company recommends the following:

1. Pay by mail — Customers can mail their checks or money orders in the return envelope with their bill and are asked to write the account number on their check.

2. Pay at convenient substations — Customers may pay their water bill at any of a number of locations. A copy of their latest bill is required, as substations will only accept payment for the exact amount on the bill.

In the Quad City area, the substations are:

Central Bank of Granite City, 1909 Edison Ave. and 2400 Madison Ave.

National Supermarket, 3100 Madison Ave.

First National Bank in Madison, 600 Madison Ave., Madison.

Schnucks Supermarket, 3401 Nameoki Road.

Pay at water company offices — The Illinois-American Water Company's business offices at 8090 State St., East St. Louis, and 1800 Edison Ave. In Granite City are open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. If customers wish to pay their bill in person. For faster service, they are asked to have the account number available and bring a copy of the bill.

4. Pay at night deposit boxes — Night deposit boxes are located at each of the water company offices. Checks or money orders should be written for the exact amount of the bill and the bill should be enclosed. Also, customers are asked to write the account number on their check.

Council

Alderman wants city to enforce requirement

dents living near the apartments, the alderman said.

Partney said City Engineer Roger Hadley had no legal authority to give White a "temporary occupancy permit" several weeks ago. Partney said that only the city's building inspector can issue occupancy permits.

White has not conformed to the zoning law, said Hopkins, some aldermen and Ed Schulze, the city motor fuel tax engineer.

White said he has tried to comply with the city's requests.

The city had never given White an occupancy permit, though White rented some of the apartments in February, officials said.

Hopkins has been criticized by Schulze and 4th Ward Alderman Partney and Sharon Perjak for not following through on letters Hopkins sent earlier in the year to White threatening White with fines if he did not comply with the zoning law.

Hopkins said the city probably cannot legally deny White an occupancy permit based on non-compliance with the zoning law.

"He is in compliance with the building codes. He's entitled to our permit," Hopkins said.

Schulze has refused to approve plot plans for the apartments until White agrees to build access for a parking lot, paves the lot and submits an adequate drainage plan.

Because of Schulze's refusal, City Building Inspector John Jakich has not issued White an occupancy permit or a "Final Certificate of Zoning Compliance," which is required on new buildings.

Under the city's zoning law, apartments must not use a public right-of-way as a parking lot.

White's apartments use an alley as an entrance to the parking lot, it is contended.

Nearly 40 residents of White's apartments, who has confronted Mayor Von Dee Cruse at several council meetings about the issue, have been critical of Hopkins and Cruse for "not enforcing the ordinance."

She said parking and drainage are serious problems because of the apartments, and compliance with the city's laws would have alleviated the problems.

Partney told fellow aldermen the city must enforce its ordinances. He asked, "If we allow C&R investments (White's company that built the apartments) to continue to break the law, how can we stand up to the public, and enforce the zoning code against any other violators?"

Hopkins said Partney's motion compares "apples and oranges."

He said the city cannot use the zoning law to deny an occupancy permit based on building codes, a different set of regulations.

Hopkins said that, as far as he's concerned, the temporary permit, which gives White a chance to stand up to the law, is valid, though Hadley may not have technically had authority to sign the permit.

It's superfluous now, he said. He already got the permit, Hopkins said.

Partney said the city's building code has no provision allowing other city laws to govern construction.

Hopkins said it is his duty to do what's best for the city. He said he thought negotiations with White would settle the matter and that he wanted to avoid a possible lawsuit by White.

Many letters have been sent on the issue to White from the city and there have been several responses from White since last fall.

Cruse said he did not know whether he would direct Hopkins to follow the council's orders.

"I've got to talk to Mr. Hopkins to see what's going on. Whether they can order our city attorney to do this, I don't know," Cruse said.

The mayor said at Tuesday's meeting the council should let the attorneys determine what legal action they should follow. Yesterday, he accused Partney and Perjak of interfering with the apartment issue.

"If the two aldermen had done their job, this thing wouldn't have happened. Political interference by the two aldermen has been dragging this thing on," Cruse said.

Partney said he wants Hopkins to tell the aldermen that Hopkins does not plan to enforce their order.

He also said the city should consider hiring an attorney who, in Partney's judgment, will enforce the city's laws.

"If Hopkins wants to tell the City Council that they cannot tell him what to do, I'd like him to come in and say it," Partney said.

"An alderman is responsible for getting things done in his ward. If a violation is brought to the attention of the attorneys and the attorneys refuse to act on it, we should find other city attorneys who will do it," Partney said.

New 4-way stop here

GRANITE CITY — Barricades have been placed on Fehling Road blocking the curve behind the high school.

Superintendent of Streets Mac Warfield ordered the barricades to block traffic on the curve and create a four-way stop where the high school has built a new entrance opposite an extension of Fehling.

Traffic at the "new" intersection moved smoothly Friday afternoon, shortly after the barricades were put in place.

The point where State connects with Fehling has always been difficult for drivers to negotiate because of the street angles, the curve and an obtrusive island in the middle of the intersection. An easterly extension of Fehling now is located immediately south of the traffic island.

Layoffs at Metro East

GRANITE CITY — Forty-one employees of the Metro East Sanitary District have been indefinitely laid off.

MESD Director Shang Greathouse announced that the employees, who represent about 63 percent of MESD's workforce, were laid off as of Friday because the district is having a cash-flow problem.

"We just don't want to run in the red," Greathouse said. He said MESD has not yet received most of its tax allocation for this year and has not been reimbursed by the state or federal government for money spent on repairs to the East St. Louis pump station.

Charlie's Restaurant sold

GRANITE CITY — Charlie's Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge, 3120 Nameoki Road, has been sold to Dennis and Sandra Cooper of Bethalto, Charlie Hester, the former owner, said Friday.

Hester said he sold Charlie's Hester Enterprises Inc. to the Coopers but will remain as a consultant and will oversee the food department and cooking. The name will remain the same, he said.

Panel grants rezoning

GRANITE CITY — A controversial property on Johnson Road has been given a green light to be rezoned.

The city Plan Commission on Monday voted unanimously to rezone 2057 Johnson Road, formerly the Midtown Pharmacy building, from residential to commercial use.

The action, subject to City Council approval, will allow a day care center to start a business in the building. It would also rezone to commercial two other parcels on a block that is zoned residential.

Committee preparing emergency plan for response if hazardous materials released

Lanny H. Darr, new director of the Madison County Emergency Services and Disaster Agency, has been elected chairman of a committee that will draw up an emergency plan for responding to the release of any hazardous materials in the county.

The committee, called the Local Emergency Planning Committee, held its organizational meeting Sept. 15 in Edwardsville. It has 23 members, appointed by Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer.

Darr took office as the county director of ESDA on Aug. 16.

The new committee will operate in cooperation with the Illinois Emergency Services and Disaster Agency under regulations established in the Federal Emergency Planning and Community Right-to-Know Act of

As required by the act, the committee is made up of members representing state and local officials, owners and operators of facilities using or storing hazardous materials, law enforcement, firefighting, health and hospital services, first-aid, emergency medical services, transportation, local environmental groups, community groups, and newspaper and broadcast media.

At the meeting, the committee elected member Charles Bosworth Jr., a reporter in the Madison County Bureau of the Post-Dispatch, as coordinator for information. Committee member Mary E. Havron, the administrative aide in the county ESDA office, was elected administrative aide to Bosworth.

The committee must prepare a local emergency response plan by Oct. 17, 1988. As part of that process, the committee must notify the public of its activities, hold public meetings to discuss the plan, acknowledge and respond to comments by the public, and distribute the plan when completed.

The committee's next meeting will be at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 6, in the conference room at County Annex II, 130 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville. Information can be obtained by calling the county ESDA office in Edwardsville at 692-6200, ext. 4478.

Members include, from Granite City:

State Rep. Sam Wolf, County Board Member Frank Laub, Shirley Adams of WGNV Radio, Mel Leibach, Granite City Steel fire prevention supervisor, and Marvin Owca, manager of plant protection at Granite City Steel.

Park to give flowers away

The Granite City Park District will hold its annual flower give-away on Saturday, Oct. 3, from 8 a.m. until noon.

The flowers are the annuals that were planted in the gardens at Wilson Park this spring. They must be replaced to prepare for the planting of tulips.

The varieties to be given away are petunias, begonias, ageratum, lantana, marigolds, dusty miller, salvia, dahlias, vinca, coleus, impatiens, cockscomb, alyssum, and geraniums.

Many of these plants will not survive the outdoor weather in this area, but may be transplanted into pots and placed in homes, or dried and the seeds removed for planting next season.

John McDaniel, gardener, said there will be no chrysanthemums, cannas or rose cuttings given away.

Each person must bring his own container, and the flowers will be dug by Park District personnel only.

The flower give-away will begin at 8 a.m. No plants will be given away before that time.

The Park District personnel ask that the public "please cooperate and follow the rules."

section of the street bordering Wilson Park and the high school is an extension of State Street and has been in use and maintained by the city for many years.

Order travel receipts

GRANITE CITY — Aldermen must account for their travel expenses.

The City Council passed a resolution last week requiring the aldermen to list how they spend their allocated travel money and to keep receipts.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

When a child's death is caused by another person's negligence, Illinois law allows the parent to recover for the loss of the child's companionship. Loss of companionship has been recognized by the Illinois Supreme Court as one part of the damages sustained by the parents when their child dies.

Recently, the question arose as to whether the owner of a pet can recover damages for loss of companionship if the pet dies as a result of an individual's negligence. The question here is whether pet owners who sustain a loss should be treated the same as parents who lose a child.

This question was addressed in a recent case. The plaintiffs took their pet German shepherd dog to an animal hospital for diagnostic treatment. During the course of the examination, the veterinarians administered anesthesia to the dog, and this resulted in the animal's death. The plaintiffs brought an action against the Animal Hospital and against the two veterinarians, alleging that the anesthesia was improperly administered.

The trial court recognized the plaintiffs had stated a cause of action for property damage.

The trial judge, however, refused to allow the plaintiffs to be compensated for loss of "companionship, loyalty, security and friendship" of the dog. The plaintiffs took the case to the Appellate Court. The Appellate Court noted that if a person is going to recover damages for loss of companionship, the lost must involve human beings, not dogs. In the eyes of the law, a dog is an item of personal property. The Court noted that the measure of damages should be an item's "actual value to the plaintiff," which may include some element of sentimental value. However, the Appellate Court emphasized that Illinois law will not permit recovery for loss of companionship when a person loses a pet.

Why is it significant that pet owners cannot recover for loss of companionship resulting from negligently caused death of pets? By not allowing the pet owner to recover for loss of companionship, the Appellate Court is in essence saying that damages will be limited in these cases. Whereas parents who lose a child may recover substantial amounts of money because of loss of companionship, pet owners who sustain a loss will not be treated in the same manner.

Granite City police

Arrested near school

Dean L. Culver, 23, of 1510 Kirkpatrick Homes, was arrested outside Granite City High School for criminal trespassing Sept. 17. Patrolmen then served a 1985 Granite City warrant alleging contempt. Culver later pleaded guilty to trespassing and was fined $75. A court date was set on the contempt charge.

Man charged with theft

Michael L. Edwards, 19, of 2459 Adams St., was arrested Sept. 17 on 1987 Granite City warrants for theft and failure to appear on a charge of attempting to elude police.

Man receives probation

Richard A. Squires, 2499 Madison Ave., pleaded guilty and was sentenced Sept. 2 on a charge of criminal damage to property. Squires, 19, was sentenced by Madison County Associate Judge Lola Maddox to one year of probation and was ordered to pay $95 court costs. A restitution amount will be determined.

The charge was filed July 22 by Granite City Police.

$500 bicycle stolen
Lee Allen, 2617 Edwards St., reported Sept. 15 that his bicycle, valued at $500, was stolen in the 100 block of Kirkpatrick Homes.

Overtaken

TWO-CAR CRASH at 22nd Street and Grand Avenue at 8:22 a.m. Tuesday caused a northbound station wagon to overturn, injuring both the driver, Victor Knowles, 70, of 2306 State St., and his passenger, Louise Knowles, 68, also of 2306 State. He was released after treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for back pain but she was admitted with fractures of the collarbone, right ankle and a rib. She was in stable condition Wednesday. The other motorist, Rebecca Hutchings, 2143a Edison Ave., who was westbound on 22nd, was charged with passing a stop sign.

DUI

Driver booked for DUI, stop sign violations

Kevin D. Strannigan, 25, of 2916 Ash Ave., was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and disobeying stop signs at Maryville Road and St. Clair Avenue and at Wilson and National avenues at 2:17 a.m. Sept. 17.

A patrolman alleged seeing Strannigan going south at high speed on Maryville Road in a pickup truck with no lights. He was followed to his house, where he was arrested. He was released on $102 cash bail and his driver license.

Madison police

Parked car burglarized

Carlos Deprow of Collinsville reported at 6:25 p.m. Sept. 11 that his car parked at 9 Fox Brothers Road was burglarized. Taken were keys and an AM-FM cassette stereo.

Suffers cut from knife

Jeff Wells was injured in a fight near Ralph and Charlie's Restaurant, 1400 Fourth St., at 3:37 a.m. Sept. 12 and police officers were called to intervene. Wells suffered a cut on his right cheek and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment. He told officers that four men accosted him in the street and one swung at him with a knife.

Arrested for cannabis

Steve Waltemate, 25, of 212 Wilson Park Lane was arrested at 10th and Iowa streets at 2:30 a.m. Sept. 13 and charged with disorderly conduct and unlawful possession of cannabis.

Motorcyclist arrested

The front wheel fell off as a motorcycle accelerated near Fourth Street and Madison Avenue at 3:55 a.m. Sept. 13. Colin L. Harris, 24, of 2620 Denver St., was charged with careless driving and operating a motorcycle on an out-of-state license while his Illinois license was suspended. He was released on a notice to appear at a hearing Oct. 16.

Man hurt in fist fight

Two men were involved in a fist fight in the rear yard at the Easy Street Cafe at 1:59 a.m. Sept. 12. One man was bleeding from the nose and mouth but refused medical attention.

Car collides with fence

William D. Moore, 22, of 2013 Elm Ave., was arrested in the 1300 block of Washington Avenue at 3:08 a.m. Sept. 12, after a traffic accident. Westbound on Kennedy Drive, he allegedly passed a stop sign at Washington Avenue and missed a turn, his car striking a fence at 1309 Washington. Moore was charged with disobeying a stop sign and unlawful possession of cannabis.

ACCIDENT VICTIM Dianna Long, 23, of 9 Fontainebleau Drive, is assisted by Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department members on Illinois 111 at the entrance to Horseshoe Lake State Park. Long was listed in satisfactory condition, with a broken leg, Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, after her car collided with another driven by Howard D. Stamps, 51, of Centerville. Stamps was turning left into the park when the collision occurred at 8:09 a.m. Sunday. He was given a ticket for failure to yield the right of way.

Venice police

Arson investigated in $5,000 apartment fire

Arson is suspected in a Sept. 7 early morning fire at a two-story apartment building at 1024 Market St. The property is owned by Charles Rancher, 1213 Market St. A bed was destroyed in one of the four apartments and the bedroom walls were scorched. Smoke damaged the interior. Property damage was listed at $1,000, with $4,000 damage to contents. An investigation is continuing.

Microwave, VCR gone

A burglar pried the door at Harry Brown's house at 711 S. Fourth St., and stole a microwave oven, a video cassette recorder, a gold watch, a VCR control box and five tapes, he reported Sept. 7.

Burglar ransacks room

A bedroom was ransacked during a burglary at the home of Clara Young, 709 S. Fourth St., she reported Sept. 7. Missing were a stereo and speakers and $6. The front door was pried.

Radio, purse missing

In a burglary at the home of Lena Rush, 210 Weaver St., a radio and a purse were taken. A hole was knocked in a door to gain entry, a Sept. 4 report said.

Auto entered, looted

Christine Kelley, 919 Third St., reported Sept. 4 that a burglar smashed a window in her van. Stolen were an auto stereo cassette player, a portable stereo radio, a cassette player and speakers, a five-inch color television, an AM-FM digital clock radio, a duffel bag, a pair of opal earrings and a pair of tennis shoes.

Burglar takes TV, VCR

A 19-inch television and a video cassette recorder were taken in a burglary at the home of Lawrence Dean, 404 Weaver St., he reported Sept. 4. A window screen was removed to gain entry.

Woman hit, loses watch

Doris J. Middleton of Omaha, Neb., reported being struck several times by a man during an argument and fight at Bissell Street and Meredocia Avenue at 3:19 a.m. Sept. 7. The suspect ran when a security guard from the Bissell Street Apartments came to the scene.

Later, Middleton informed police that she went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where three stitches were applied to a lip laceration. She also reported losing a gold watch worth $75 during the fight.

Venice man wounded 3 times by knife wielder

Police found John Love, 125 Weaver St., lying in the street bleeding from three knife slashes at 10:20 p.m. Sept. 8.

Several people were standing near Love in front of the Venice Garden Apartments in the 100 block of Weaver Street when officers arrived. He apparently was slashed with a knife in the stomach area, right arm and right leg. Love, who is in his mid-30s, asked to go to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was taken there by ambulance. Police are continuing to investigate.

Truck safety law signed

SPRINGFIELD — Legislation creating tougher new standards for drivers of heavy trucks is now law, Secretary of State Jim Edgar announced Sept. 21. HB 2298, proposed by Edgar and signed by Gov. James Thompson, is intended to improve highway safety by establishing uniform licensing requirements for commercial motor vehicle operators and removing bad drivers from the road.

"A person who drives 80,000 pounds of steel and cargo down a highway should be held to a high standard of competence," Edgar said.

"Not only does a tractor-trailer operator need greater skills, he needs a greater measure of accountability because of the potential for death and injury in the event of a serious accident."

Under the new truck safety law:

• No person who operates a commercial motor vehicle may have more than one driver license.

• Illinois truckers who receive tickets, either in-state or out-of-state, must report the convictions to the Secretary of State within 30 days.

• Operators must notify employers of any license revocation, suspension or cancellation within 30 days.

• No employer shall knowingly allow an employee to operate a commercial motor vehicle if that person's license is revoked, suspended or canceled.

• Drivers must provide a 10-year employment history to future potential employers.

In February of this year, the U.S. Department of Transportation designated Edgar's office to be the lead agency among the 50 states to develop minimum national standards for training and testing truck drivers.

"Although Illinois already has stringent licensing requirements and the vast majority of drivers are safe drivers — some states have lax standards," Edgar said.

"We believe this new law will play a role in improving highway safety, particularly for out-of-state truckers who travel through Illinois."

Studies have shown that one in five drivers hold more than one license.

Multiple licenses are used to hide bad driving records or to enable those with revoked or suspended licenses to continue driving, he said. The new law specifically outlaws the practice of holding more than one driver license.

The law, which takes effect immediately, is the product of a task force on truck safety created by Edgar in 1986.

In Illinois, 528,620 drivers are licensed to operate vehicles weighing over 26,000 pounds.

Fire heavily damages garage, Mercedes in it

A garage fire caused $28,000 in damage to the garage, car and home of Carol Vaughn, 4027 Maryville Road, at 2:34 a.m. Sept. 21.

Granite City firefighters said the cause could not be determined. The fire destroyed the garage valued at $15,000, and caused $10,000 damage to a 1974 Mercedes-Benz parked in the building.

The fire also melted shutters on Vaughn's home, where an open back door allowed the house to become filled with smoke. Damage to the house was estimated at $3,000.

Five injured as autos collide at 162, Maryville

Five people were injured, with three hospitalized, in a two-car accident at 8:27 p.m. Sept. 19 at Illinois 162 and Maryville Road.

Driver Joseph Arguello, 19, and his passenger, Donald Marshall, 21, both of National City, were listed in satisfactory condition Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Also injured were driver Cynthia A. Clark, 21, of 5 Roxbury Court, who was admitted to SEMC and released Monday, and her passengers, Christine Schulze and Theresa Simburger, both of Edwardsville, both treated and released.

Arguello was traveling west on 162 and Clark was turning left from 162 to Maryville Road when the accident occurred. Both said the traffic signal was in their favor. Arguello's station wagon then hit the light, causing more than $250 damage.

Conferences need not be tense

WASHINGTON — You're a little apprehensive because you've been asked to a meeting with your child's teacher.

A word of advice from the National Education Association and The National PTA: relax.

"Teachers don't want to put parents on the spot," says NEA President Mary Hatwood Futrell. "They just like to meet with parents from time to time to discuss how to help students do their best in school."

"Parents need to be educated about what to expect from a parent-teacher conference," adds National PTA President Manya Unger. "They need to know how to participate to help their children do well in school."

Futrell and Unger recently announced that NEA and the PTA have teamed to produce two new resources to help parents get the most out of parent-teacher conferences.

"Making Parent-Teacher Conferences WORK for Your Child," a brochure, and "A Common Goal," an 11-minute video, both provide practical tips for effective parent-teacher communication.

"We believe parents are critical to the school success of their children," says Futrell. "The best school team is the one in which parents and teachers work together."

"Though parents and teachers may not meet as often as they'd like, we'd like to see them have productive sessions on those occasions when they do come together," says Unger.

The video follows a parent through a meeting with her child's teacher, highlighting what a parent should expect from the teacher and providing advice on how to make the conferences productive for both parties.

Copies of "A Common Goal" are available in 16mm, VHS, and 3/4-inch videotape formats for rent ($8) and VHS videotapes are for sale ($15). Films and tapes are available through MediaTech, Client Communication Department, 110 W. Hubbard Street, Chicago, Ill. 60610.

Norbert Tate

Tate teaching

By Maxine Duniphan
Correspondent

Norbert Tate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tate, 3101 Maryville Road, will be the music director at West Junior High School on Newton.

Though this will be Tate's first year as a full-time teacher, he is no stranger to music. For the past three years he has served as a marching band judge for the Bureau of Marching Music Adjudication, a music organization headquartered in Belleville. Last school year he was named vice president of administration of the organization.

Tate has a bachelor's degree in music education from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, received in 1986. While in college, he helped teach marching band clinics for high schools throughout Illinois, Missouri and Kentucky.

Tate will also work with the nationally known Newton Marching Eagles Band as the members polish their skills in preparation for marching in the Orange Bowl parade on New Year's Eve.

Madison Middle School

Business campus size being doubled by local contractor

A local contractor and Granite City resident, Bill Tindell, has been awarded the contract for expansion and renovation of the Sanford-Brown Business College's Granite City campus.

The plans call for doubling the size of the campus from 8,000 to 12,000 square feet. Major renovations are already in progress.

Sanford-Brown offers diplomas in accounting, computers and secretarial. Its campus is located on Chain of Rocks Road.

Special education temporary records destroyed periodically

The Region I Cooperative of Madison County Special Education, in accord with local Board of Education policies and the Illinois Student Records Act, is giving notice of its policy regarding temporary records storage.

All inquiries or questions on temporary special education records should be addressed to Steven M. Balen, director of special education and records custodian for special education entrusted to Region I. The region is operated by the Granite City, Madison and Venice school districts.

Temporary special records contain case study evaluation components, individual education plans, records of release, program reviews and parent correspondence. Parents have the legal right to know:

1. The types of information contained in the permanent and temporary records.
2. The right to inspect and copy permanent and temporary records and the cost of copying such records.
3. The right to control access and release of school student records and the right to request a copy of information released.
4. The rights and procedures for challenging the contents of the school student record.
5. The persons, agencies or organizations having access to student records without parental consent.
6. The right to copy any school student record, or information contained therein, proposed to be destroyed or deleted and the school's schedule for reviewing and destroying such information.

7. The categories of information the school has designated as "directory information" and the right of the parents to prohibit the release of such information.

8. A statement informing the parents that no person may condition the granting or withholding of any right, privilege or benefits or make as a condition of employment, credit or insurance the securing by any individual of information from a student's temporary record which such individual may obtain through the exercise of any right secured under the Act or these regulations.

9. The right of the parents to request and challenge the information contained in a school student record prior to transfer of the record to another school district, in the event of the transfer of the student to that district; and,

10. Any policies of the school relating to school student records which are not included in the Act or these regulations.

The cooperative will annually destroy those temporary special education records on all students who have graduated from high school or who have terminated by the staffing process special education programming and/or services for a period of at least five calendar years.

Parents or guardians of minor or non-competent children may request to review the record of their ward prior to record destruction.

All such requests for review should be made to the director of special education, Region I Cooperative, within 30 days of this article.

Two Granite City students in Merit semifinals

Two Granite City High School students are among the 15,000 young people nationwide who are National Merit Scholarship semifinalists.

The two students are Michael W. Krausz and James J. Kusmierczak.

The top scorers in every state represent about one-half of one percent of the state's high school graduating class.

The high school seniors will have the opportunity to continue in the 1988 competition for 6,000 Merit Scholarships worth more than $23 million.

The 1988 class of Merit Scholars will be announced in the spring.

LEARN TO BE HAPPY

Most of us think that being happy is something you either are or you aren't. If you are, fine. If you aren't, there isn't much that you can do about it. Nothing is further from the truth.

We are perfectly willing to learn how to read, write, drive a car, bowl, dance, etc., but we feel that happiness is something that just happens. And usually to others.

Everything we do must be learned, including simply living. None of us were born with the secret of how to live, we learned it from our parents and those around us. Why should happiness be any different?

The first secret of learning to be happy is learning how to look for happiness.

Most people never get over making the basic mistake of looking outside of themselves for happiness. This is the wrong place to look.

The source of our happiness is not outside, but within. We spend so much time looking for someone, or something else to make us happy that we lose sight of the fact that we alone are responsible for our good time. We keep looking for someone else to have the magic key to our kingdom of happiness, while we already have that key. We merely have to use it.

To use the key, we must have the proper attitude. We must take charge of our own lives. To many, holding ourselves accountable for our own lives is a frightening prospect. It is much easier to blame someone or something else for making us feel unhappy than to take steps to feel better.

Once we take charge of our own lives, we then realize that we can actually control our feelings.

Of course there are still going to be many painful feelings in life.

But we can control whether we cling to these painful feelings or push them aside. When people say, "This bad feeling just came over me and I just can't help myself," what they are really saying is "I didn't help myself." We can all help ourselves.

Next you must make a decision. Do you want to lift yourself up, or put yourself down.

Many people continue to make the decision to put themselves down because negative comments or experiences in childhood taught them to have negative feelings about themselves. And everybody knows when someone is no good they didn't deserve to be happy.

You have to decide, are you for or against yourself. If you are for yourself, you can begin to choose to do the things that make you feel good about yourself instead of the things that make you feel terrible.

BOB THOMAS
President

Feeling good about yourself opens the door to happiness. When you truly feel good about yourself, you are happy with yourself and with life and no outside force can change that. Living Every Day starts with feeling good about yourself.

Trustees approve SIU budget

The SIU Board of Trustees on Sept. 10 approved a $321.9 million operating budget for the Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses and Central Administration, based on state appropriations and anticipated non-appropriated income for fiscal year 1988, which began July 1.

The budget, which reflects an increase of about $6.5 million or 2.1 percent over last year, excluding retirement funding, is based on estimated income of $194.8 million from state appropriations and $127.1 million in non-appropriated funds.

Total budgets for each campus are: SIU at Carbondale, $233.3 million; SIU at Edwardsville, $81.6 million; and Central Administration, $5.0 million.

Retirement funding is budgeted for a decrease of 13.5 percent, from $10.6 million last year to $9.2 million this year.

Of the state appropriations, which account for 60.5 percent of the total operating budget, the Carbondale campus will receive $137.9 million, a decrease of 2.5 percent, while the Edwardsville campus will receive $55.2 million, a decrease of 2.4 percent, and Central Administration will receive $1.7 million, a decrease of 2.4 percent. These figures do not include retirement fund contributions.

State appropriated funds consisted of general revenue funds (tax dollars) and income fund collections, derived primarily from tuition and fees. General revenue funds will support about 46.3 percent of the projected FY-88 budget, while income fund collections are expected to support about 14.2 percent. The remaining 39.5 percent of expected revenue comes from non-appropriated funds.

Projected non-appropriated funds represent a net increase of $11.4 million or 9.9 percent over last year, with the Carbondale campus budgeted for $97.3 million, an increase of $8.5 million or 9.5 percent over last year; while the Edwardsville campus is budgeted for $26.4 million, an increase of $1.9 million, a gain of 7.8 percent.

Funds in the non-appropriated category include revenues received in support of research and other programs sponsored by governmental entities, private foundations and corporations; revenues received as reimbursement of indirect costs on sponsored programs; income from operation of revenue bond financed auxiliary enterprises, principally housing and student center operations; and revenues from other self-supporting auxiliary enterprises and activities which are funded primarily by student fees and operating charges.

The new budget includes the following increases:

- General cost increase, 3 percent;
- Utility costs, 3.5 percent;
- Library costs, 2.57 percent.

Suicide prevention training to be given teachers, counselors

SPRINGFIELD — Teachers and school guidance counselors will be given training in teen suicide prevention under a bill approved by Gov. James Thompson Sept. 10.

The instruction will become part of the required in-service training program for school personnel. The State Board of Education is charged with providing guidance and materials.

Rep. Gary Hannig, D-Bell, was a chief co-sponsor of the bill, which was prompted by concern over increased teen suicides.

A study done earlier this year on teen suicide in Illinois from 1977 through 1985 listed Madison County as having the ninth highest number in the state.

Fifteen youths between the ages of 15 and 19 took their own lives in the county during that period. The peak year for teen suicides in Madison County was 1979, with five reported.

The state average for teen-age suicides of 7.6 per 100,000 was less than the national average of 8.5, however, according to the study by a Chicago medical center.

While males are most likely to succeed in killing themselves, although girls make more failed attempts, according to the study.

Korte will speak at 5th annual Small Business Finance dinner

Plans for the fifth annual meeting of the Small Business Finance Alliance are in full swing, said Debbie Groetka, operations manager. The meeting will be held on Sept. 30 at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville.

Ralph Korte, chairman of Korte Construction Co. Inc., will be the guest speaker.

Alliance president is Ron Wallace, president, Union Bank of East St. Louis. Directors include William S. Badgley, chairman of Magna Group, a bank holding company that owns two Granite City banks.

The story Korte has to tell is one of a successful business, started in 1953. Since that time, the operation has grown to employ a full-time staff of 180 and up to 400 additional workers, depending on the size and number of projects underway.

Last year the company had a volume of over $80 million. This spring, Engineering News-Record, a national trade publication, ranked Korte's company number 252 of the top 400 U.S. contractors.

Also this spring, the St. Louis Business Journal ranked Korte Construction number 6 of the 25 largest St. Louis metropolitan area contractors.

"The Small Business Finance Alliance is also a success story," Wallace said. Created in 1982, the Alliance has grown from 25 to over 100 members. The purpose of the not-for-profit corporation is to provide financial assistance to new and existing small businesses which will result in the creation of new jobs.

Alliance assistance, including information about business loan programs and loan packaging, is available for projects located in Bond, Clinton, Madison, Monroe, St. Clair, Randolph and Washington counties.

Through the SBA 504 program, the Small Business Finance Alliance is able to issue SBA-guaranteed debentures to raise money for specific projects. Each project must be approved by the Alliance's financial review committee, board of directors, and the Small Business Administration before loans are made.

"The process can be a long one," Groetka admitted, "but it protects the taxpayer and the integrity of the program."

The Alliance is a U.S. SBA-certified development company and has a close working relationship with the SBA.

To date, the Alliance has provided financing for 17 small business projects ranging from $90,000 to nearly $2,000,000. Total loans equal $11 million and all are "in good shape."

The Alliance's portion of a project does not exceed 40 percent or $500,000. The remainder of the funds is provided by private lending institutions and the small business concern.

Over 500 jobs have resulted from Alliance loans," Groetka said.

Persons interested in knowing more about the Small Business Finance Alliance or the annual meeting may contact Debbie Groetka at 344-4080.

Jobs in Illinois lagging behind national recovery

SPRINGFIELD — While Illinois' economy has made moderate recoveries since the recession of 1979, the labor market still lags behind national levels, Comptroller Roland W. Burris reported last week.

"Because of manufacturing's failure to recover from the recession, Illinois' unemployment rate has exceeded the national rate each year since then," Burris said.

He reported that non-agricultural employment in Illinois showed a rebound during fiscal 1987 with an increase of 80,000 jobs over fiscal 1986. However, the 4.87 million non-agricultural jobs were still 60,000 fewer than at the end of fiscal 1979. In June 1987 there were 930,000 manufacturing jobs in the state, 10,000 more than in June 1986 but 370,000 fewer than in June 1979.

During the same period, the nation experienced a similar decline in manufacturing jobs. In June 1987, there were 19.15 million manufacturing jobs in the U.S.

While that was 70,000 greater than in the previous year, it was 2.16 million lower than in June 1979.

Burris said that while the number of manufacturing jobs has declined across the country since 1979, productivity has increased dramatically.

The June 1987 national industrial production index was 3.2 percent higher than in the previous year and 15.6 percent greater than in June 1979.

Meanwhile, the housing and auto production industries have shown growth patterns similar to overall manufacturing in Illinois. While building permits in Illinois were up 5,300 in fiscal 1987 over fiscal 1986, they still were 7,000 fewer than in fiscal 1979.

Sales of domestic autos totaled 7.7 million units in the U.S. in fiscal 1987, 300,000 fewer than in fiscal 1986 and 1.1 million fewer than fiscal 1979. The sale of imports brought total car sales to only 100,000 units below the fiscal 1979 level.

Small business tax workshop set for Oct. 1

A workshop for owners of small businesses will be held in Belleville on Thursday, Oct. 1, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The Internal Revenue Service will cover the specific forms, deductions and credits pertaining to a sole proprietorship. Recordkeeping requirements will also be included.

The Illinois Department of Revenue will cover, in detail, sales tax forms, requirements and common problems. State income tax forms will also be reviewed.

Since the number of people attending the workshop must be limited, advance registration is required, through Miles Reynolds at 235-2700.

The workshop is co-sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service, the Illinois Department of Revenue, the Small Business Administration, Belleville Area College and the Small Business Development Center.

Housing market becoming U.S.'s economic stronghold

A recently completed national study on American housing released by "Better Homes and Gardens" sheds favorable light on reasons many financial experts feel the housing market is one of the nation's economic strongholds, announced George Bruns, general manager of Gundaker Realtors/Better Homes and Gardens.

The report, which was issued at the end of June of this year, indicated that over the last two years (March 1985 to March 1987) the annual household growth in the United States has averaged a healthy 1.4 million. "Yet one of the more telling statistics from the study," said Bruns, "is that while the growth in the number of households is strong, the growth in the number of renters is weakening. In 1987 the increase in renters was only 0.23 million. This could be a telling statistic as rents continue to rise sharply."

According to the report, 1986 was also a record year for the home construction business. "As the number of households continues to grow," said Bruns, "so does the size of new homes. The average size of a home built in 1986 was 1,830 square feet, and that is a record. This compares to 1,770 square feet in 1985; a sign that today's new home buyer is looking for more space."

Today's new-home buyer is also looking at more expense, Bruns pointed out. "Through the spring of 1987, strong single-family activity was led by a 'trade-up demand,' will be more expensive and contain more of the 'extras' than housing built for first-time buyers."

Patent workshop set

SPRINGFIELD — Inventors, entrepreneurs, small business owners and others can learn about U.S. patents and trademarks at a workshop Oct. 19 at the Sheraton Inn, Springfield, according to Secretary of State and State Librarian Jim Edgar.

Open to the public, the workshop, "Patents: Hear It from the Pros," is intended to be useful to anyone interested in legally protecting ideas and inventions or researching information available through the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

"Patent services can be extremely helpful to inventors and entrepreneurs," Edgar said. "New inventions and ideas often lead to new small business ventures, which in turn create jobs. Also, existing businesses use patent offices to study marketing trends, new product development and other important business information."

Edgar encourages the use of the U.S. Patent Depository collection at the State Library in Springfield.

This workshop will provide a basic understanding of patents as an information resource, and will feature information on organizations with services and programs available to assist in the many facets of the patent and commercialization process," he said.

The program will feature speakers from the U.S. Patent and Trademark office, focusing on types of idea protection and functions of the office. Legal aspects of the patenting process will be presented by patent attorney Patrick Ertel.

The luncheon speaker will be Martha Cropper, director of the Southern Illinois University at Carbondale Technology Commercialization Center. She will discuss the purpose and programs of state-funded centers that assist inventors and small business owners. Cropper will also discuss the federally-funded Small Business Innovation Research program.

Participants must register by Oct. 2. The fee is $9 and the workshop is limited to 150 participants. For additional information or to register, persons may contact Jeanne Oliver, Patent Depository coordinator, Illinois State Library, Centennial Building, Springfield 62756 (telephone 217-782-5430).

IP delays reply on plan to rebate $22 million

SPRINGFIELD — Weeks after the Illinois Commerce Commission urged it to rebate voluntarily $22 million in hot weather profits to customers, Illinois Power Co. has not responded.

The ICC, on Aug. 23, urged IP to give a bigger net rebate to customers than the utility had proposed.

ICC members suggested IP come back with a new plan for the commission to approve at its Sept. 16 meeting so rebates could be reflected on October bills.

The ICC meeting was held with no formal response from IP. Al Adams, a spokesman for the firm, said IP "still hasn't resolved our position on that." He said he didn't know of any "target date" for reaching a decision.

The ICC said its proposal would give a typical IP residential customer a $88 rebate. The ICC rejected the utility's plan to lower summer rates and boost winter rates. It said that would only save the typical customer a net $12 over the next year.

The ICC reaction was praised by consumer groups that have organized in opposition to higher IP rates tied to its costly Clinton nuclear plant. Those groups characterized IP's plan as a "shell game."

Defense expert to speak

Business officials will get a firsthand assessment Sept. 29 of President Ronald Reagan's proposed Star Wars defense system.

Retired Army Lt. Gen. Daniel O. Graham, known as the "father of the Strategic Defense Initiative," will be the guest speaker at a luncheon sponsored by the Regional Commerce and Growth Association.

The noon luncheon is slated to be held in the Crystal Room of the Missouri Athletic Club.

Graham is the founder and director of Project High Frontier, a privately funded group based in Washington, D.C. His research into the viability of the project is credited in large part with Reagan's decision to move forward with SDI.

Graham is a former deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency, former director of the Defense Intelligence Agency and an authority on U.S. and Soviet strategic defenses.

Reservations are required for the luncheon, which costs $20 per person.

Reservations may be made by contacting Miriam Stevens at (314) 444-1173.

Construction cost innovations will be topic of contractors

COCA Inc., the Council of Owners and Construction Associates Inc., will sponsor a conference entitled "Labor Management Innovations in Construction Cost-Effectiveness" on Oct. 6.

Dr. John Rasmussen, vice president of generating engineering and construction for Potomac Electric Power Co., Washington, D.C., and chairman of The Business Roundtable Construction Committee's Speakers Bureau, will deliver the keynote speech, entitled "Survival."

Bill Wakefield, director of corporate engineering for FMC Corp. and current chairman of the Business Roundtable Construction Committee, will provide an update on the activities of the committee and the Construction Industry Institute.

Joseph F. Maloney, secretary-treasurer, Building and Construction Trades Department, AFL-CIO, Washington, D.C., and William G. Bell, senior vice president, Bechtel Construction Inc., will discuss the National Construction Stabilization Agreement.

Both Maloney and Bell were active participants in the negotiation of this agreement, which is designed to make union contractors more productive and competitive. Bell is chairman of the National Constructors Association.

A panel of speakers from the Labor-Management Council of Kansas City will provide an in-depth presentation describing an innovative market retention project agreement recently created and offered in the Kansas City area.

The panel will include Bill Richardson, secretary/business manager, Greater Kansas City Building and Construction

John Rasmussen

Trades Council, AFL-CIO; James L. "Skip" Hutton Jr., executive director, Associated General Contractors of Missouri; Kansas City Chapter; and Daniel Petree, executive director, the Labor-Management Council of Greater Kansas City. Each helped create the "Kansas City Works" agreement and is involved in the administration of activities associated with it.

The local conference will be held from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 6, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The registration fee is $35 per person. ## Hardee's in Madison completes remodeling

MADISON — Construction was completed Sept. 15 at the Hardee's restaurant in Madison.

The extensive upgrade project cost $200,000 and consisted of new seating and a totally new interior decor, including ceiling, floor and lighting improvements.

To celebrate the completion of the remodeling and the grand re-opening, Hardee's will be giving away a bicycle as part of a Dr. Pepper promotion. The restaurant employs 32 people and has an annual payroll of $208,000.

"There is a much fresher look," according to Manager Joyce Tadlock. "It's a pleasure to manage this restaurant. The people here are great. I'm glad we can offer a more attractive look and even better service to the residents of Madison."

The menu features a Rise and Shine biscuit breakfast, as well as hamburgers, specially sandwiches, salads and soft ice cream for lunch and dinner.

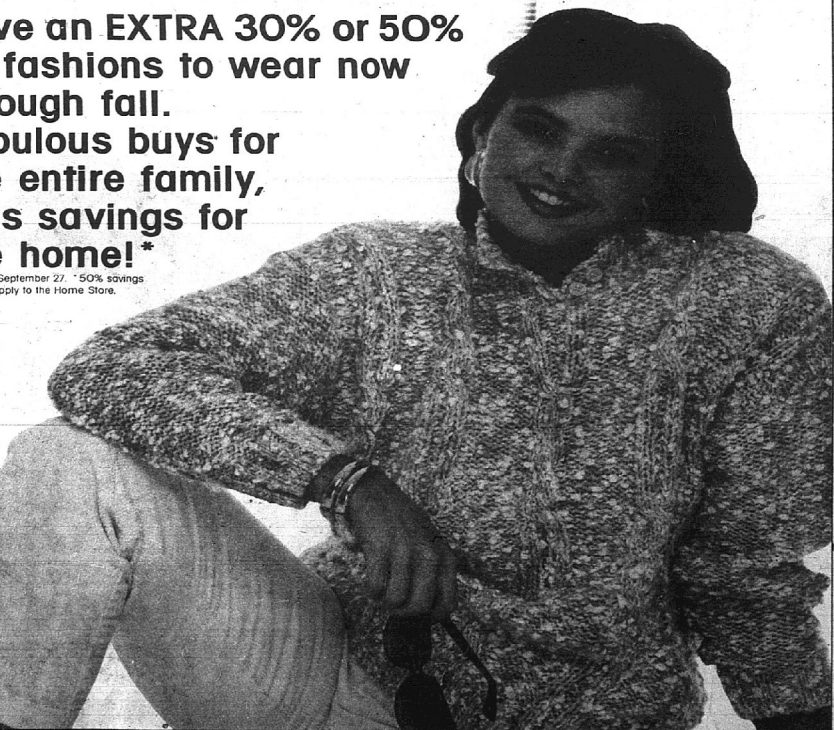

Hardee's Food Systems is headquartered in Rocky Mount, N.C. Founded in 1961, the company has increased its customer traffic and average unit sales to become the third most popular hamburger chain in America, a spokesman said.

Letters

Granite City (Ill.) Press-Record, Thursday, September 24, 1987 — 1B

Valuation changed without inspection

To the editor:

We are responding to the "Costlier outside Granite City limits" letter to the editor, where the writer asks why anyone would want to de-annex for a lousy $200 a year. Maybe the following might help him to understand:

1. You said your taxes are ridiculous at $1,398 on a $55,000 home. Try Mr. Harshany's taxes of $1,907 per year on an assigned market value home of $75,000. This would mean, based on the tax rate of this home, that your already ridiculous taxes would be $1,398 or $360 more per annum in Granite City.

2. Had you checked, you would have found that we are on the same sewage treatment system that you are (Madison County sewers). Even though we are city residents, we get to pay the same 3-4 times more money as you do for the sewers.

3. Had you checked, you would have found there are people who belong to the Park District even though they are not Granite City residents. However, they pay, as well as all Granite City residents, the Park District tax rate as part of their tax bill.

4. You must realize we receive neither free trash pickup nor ambulance service as you stated. The costs for these services are paid through our taxes.

Don't you get twice-a-week trash pickups while we get trash picked up but once a week? Try letting your garbage ferment for a week in hot temperatures while waiting for it to be picked up.

5. You said that you get to pay more for water than city residents. However, when comparing our area water bill (Illinois American Water Co.) with your area water bill (Mitchell Public Water District), we have found that city residents pay .0025 cents per gallon while your area water costs only .0024 cents per gallon.

6. We have always had excellent service from the Granite City police department. Mr. Harshany had the same excellent service from Madison County when he lived outside the city limits. To say the least, these men and women do an outstanding job and never receive the recognition they deserve.

7. Although we have never had the need for the services of the ambulance or fire department, we are sure they rank among the best in the state. However, our neighbor might disagree with us. It took him approximately 20 minutes to convince the Granite City fire department that he lived in the city, so they would respond to a smoking heat pump. We do believe they now know what properties are within the city limits.

However, let us not lose sight of the real reason for the de-annexation petition: Accountability of the Granite City tax assessor. The Granite City assessor, without an interior inspection, changed the grade factor of homes and refuses to change them back.

The grade factor is assigned at the time of the construction of the home. Unless the home has had major changes, it is supposed to remain for the life of the home. The grade factor is based on the type of materials used and the quality of the construction within the home.

The assigned grade factor of the home (A, B, C, D, E) is used as part of the criteria in the computation of the assessed valuation of the home.

Let me ask you, does placing a cubic zirconia diamond among a group of real diamonds cause the cubic zirconia diamond to change what it is made of? After sitting there for eight years, will it become a real diamond?

Due to its appearance, would you want to pay the same price for the cubic zirconia as you would for the real diamond? We think not.

Cites candidate's federal experience

To the editor:

I read with interest your editorial encouraging voters in Madison County to elect a favorite-son candidate.

While I agree Mr. Pete Fields is a superior choice to Mr. Jerry Costello, I think you are downplaying the experience factor that Mr. Mike Mansfield brings to this election.

When you hire a reporter — and that's what voters do: hire a congressman — you certainly give more credence to an applicant's experience than his place of birth.

Would you not hire the reporter with 10 years of proven experience and the proper education over the hometown person who says he's never written for a newspaper before but did write cutlines for the high school yearbook?

This election is about birthright — the Constitution does not adhere to a Divine Right of Kings theory. This election is about honesty, experience and potential.

The media would better serve the public by exploring these criteria than trying to incite an emotional battle between St. Clair and Madison counties residents.

The next congressman will be elected to serve portions of five counties and we need a candidate that can serve all equally.

SEMC praised as asset to community

To the editor:

For a community to prosper, it needs several key elements to entice industry, business and residential growth.

A community must offer a strong city, village, township or county government, superior parks and recreation facilities, an excellent school system and a hospital facility which provides the most modern and up-to-date technology, an expert staff of physicians, as well as a dedicated support staff of employees.

I'm sure that many of the citizens throughout the community may have a difference of opinion as to the quality of some of these areas.

I personally think our community has a lot to offer in each of these areas to entice industry, business and, especially, people who want to raise their families in a community where people care and work together to locate here.

Recently, I had the necessity to enter a hospital for gall bladder surgery. Although I have been a lifelong resident of this community, I have not required prior services of a hospital facility.

When a person is considering having major surgery performed, you want to rest assured that you have chosen the most qualified surgeon, as well as the most modern hospital facility and one which has a dedicated support staff of nurses and aides to assist in your recovery.

After consulting my personal physician, Dr. Robert Blankenship, and at his advice, I was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Dr. Overt Lay performed the surgery and, under his and Dr. Blankenship's directions — and the care of the nurses and aides on the 3rd Floor, who aided in my recovery — I was allowed to return home on the third day after surgery.

I personally would recommend Dr. Lay and St. Elizabeth Medical Center to anyone who is considering surgery of any type.

Sister Mary Thomas, Mr. Ted Ellerman and the Board of Directors of St. Elizabeth Medical Center can, and should, be proud of the staff of doctors, nurses and personnel who perform their respective services in a most friendly and professional manner.

St. Elizabeth Medical Center is a very vital asset to our community and to its future.

Husband's life saved by city's staff

To the editor:

I need to express my appreciation — quite frankly, I'd like to shout it from the rooftops — for the help of the Police Department and the Fire Department. They came to my husband's assistance when he was having a heart attack.

My husband thought he could drive himself to the hospital but found he couldn't make it.

Luckily, Patrolman Walter Milton happened by and called for the ambulance. Sgt. David Ruebhausen, also responded to the call.

As emergency medical technicians, Paul Besserman and Kevin Kieley, attended to him with oxygen and medication, paramedics David Bell and Allen Harris attached the heart monitor and were in contact with St. Elizabeth Medical Center, giving the hospital his vital signs.

While all this was going on, Patrolman Milton was directing traffic away from the area.

I had arrived home not five minutes after my husband had written the note he had written.

My daughter and I immediately got back into the car and started for the hospital. I was only a few blocks from home when I saw the red lights flashing and the police cars.

I work for the City of Granite City, and I know what great guys these men are. But to see them in action, the kind words they had to advise me, and the gentleness they used... I shall never, ever forget them.

How can I? They saved my husband. I am truly grateful.

Tax money buying 'passports' for junkets by city's officials

A city law requiring aldermen to report their travel expenses is meaningless and should be amended.

Before 5th Ward Alderman Jake Varadian's ordinance passed Sept. 15, city officials did not have to report how they spent junket bucks. Without a blush, they kept leftover cash that rightfully should have been returned to the city for its intended use — serving taxpayers.

Varadian's ordinance could have solved the disgraceful use of the public's money, but it did not. After one junket last year, an alderman admitted to having come out $150 to $200 ahead. That kind of waste of our community's blue-collar dollars is shameful and should have been stopped by Varadian's ordinance.

But the ordinance merely requires city officials to turn in receipts. They can continue to keep leftover funds.

Though glaringly inadequate, Varadian's ordinance will save money. Last year, city officials got $500 to go to Chicago for the Illinois Municipal League convention and this year they will get $350. But, without safeguards, next year or later the amount for trips could go back up to $500 or more, and city officials will go on keeping what's left.

After the trip to Chicago occurs Oct. 16-19, the receipts of the 15 city officials who will attend will probably show expenditures of $350, or even more. Some on the trip will make sure that every cent is spent to show none was wasted, and they may want to use the receipts to demonstrate a need for a greater allocation next year.

In fact, taxpayers should look out for such sleight-of-hand trickery. A trip to Chicago at $350 is adequate for one person, but the city isn't sending one person — it's sending 15 at a cost of $5,250. Everyone doesn't need to go. The fiscally responsible thing to do is to send four or five representatives to Chicago and they would file reports about what occurred at the meeting.

The solution is obvious for any alderman willing to stand before his peers and admit the junket system is a money waster.

The ordinance could be rewritten:

—Not more than five city officials, including the mayor, may attend an IMLE convention;

—City officials who have left over money must return it to the city;

—Spending not covered by a signed and dated receipt will not be paid for by the city;

—Receipts should be turned in to the city clerk within two weeks following a trip; and

—Receipts should be kept on file by the clerk for a period of not less than two years so that the public can review how elected officials care for taxpayers' money.

Tax money is supposed to be collected for the benefit of taxpayers, but those who favor the junket system use it as a passport to self-gratification.

Convention center needed

"Strike while the iron is hot" is advice Metro East failed to heed once. It could fail again.

The state once cleared the way for a network of convention centers and picked up a lot of the cost. Several cities proceeded, but delay began to jeopardize a Metro East facility, proposed for the university campus area.

A 12-member panel was named by the state, which had unwisely ignored the SIUE location and thrown the question open to debate. The whole idea soon fell apart amid competition between Belleville and Edwardsville.

It's a shame the project didn't become a reality. It would have been an asset to the entire Illinois portion of the bi-state area as well as much surrounding territory. It wouldn't have competed with St. Louis' huge meeting space; instead it would have hosted small and medium-size groups.

All of Madison County unselfishly supported the Edwardsville plan and now is hoping to see Collinsville go ahead with its proposed $5.1 million center in the vicinity of Eastport Plaza, near Interstate 55-70 and State Aid 35.

There is a $2 million state grant, along with $3.1 million revenue bond power, but some Collinsville officials are getting "cold feet" and may not vote affirmatively next week.

This would be unfortunate. The financial outlook is not as bright as for the lost Edwardsville opportunity, but the Collinsville site could be a big plus for everyone. Many organizations and interest groups want to assemble here, free of bridge and stadium congestion, but do not do so because our county lacks a conference center.

Biden now biding his time

Many Quad Citians are relieved that Sen. Joe Biden yesterday dropped out of the presidential race. The Oval Office in 1989-92 should not be occupied by a man people cannot trust.

He used others' speeches without attribution and did so in a way that misled audiences. And he grossly overstated his academic credentials while campaigning this year in New Hampshire. After pretending to be the "thinking voter's" choice — innovative and compassionate — he is revealed instead as a copycat insecure about applying his own ideas to the issues of the day.

Leading the nation would be impossible for someone whose every word might create new doubt and, perhaps, laughter. Biden is right in "biding his time" until some future date when he has restored people's faith in him.

Medical, fire services fine

To the editor:

After reading an article in the Sept. 2 issue of your newspaper in regard to the cost of living outside Granite City, I would like to respond primarily to the emergency medical services and fire protection.

Apparently the gentleman is attempting to show how well versed he is with these particular services.

First of all, he should be aware that there are no free ambulance services, including Granite City.

The ambulance service providing emergency care to the residents of Nameoki Township has one of the highest levels of qualified, trained personnel available in our area.

This service provides basic and advanced life support, with emergency medical technicians and paramedics certified on the state and national levels, which is equivalent to the services offered in Granite City.

Commenting on the cost of an emergency call, I feel personally that if a member of my family is in a life or death situation and in need of an ambulance, the cost would not be a concern. I'm thankful the services are available to our residents.

Second, he should know that Nameoki Township does not have a fire department. Each fire department has its own district, and more than one fire department protects Nameoki Township.

I believe the fire department he is commenting about is located in Pontoon Beach and is known as the Long Lake Fire Protection District; it protects a portion of Nameoki Township.

He commented that the fire department has good equipment and very fine volunteers, which is very true.

He does not realize that these volunteers go out of their way to donate their time for extensive training to protect the residents of our community — unlike a paid firefighter who uses his time at work to accomplish the same training.

Even though these volunteers have families and full-time employment, they are always trained and ready to serve the community.

Living in Pontoon Beach — a small but growing community — I am aware of our fine fire protection service. The department has a very sufficient amount of volunteer firefighters to protect our community at all times. They have the highest quality of training, in firefighting and emergency medical service, available to any fire department or firefighter.

This department is manned with EMTs, paramedics and state-certified firefighters.

If he would investigate the amount of taxes paid by each homeowner for fire protection in Granite City and Nameoki Township, he would probably be surprised at the outcome and still be protected by the high quality and experience of the volunteer fire department.

In closing, a comment should be made that no matter if you are within a fire district of paid firefighters such as Granite City, or a volunteer department such as Pontoon Beach, the quality of service should not be compared but appreciated.

He should remember the old cliché, amended. The grass is not always greener on the other side."

State in front on super collider

To the editor:

On Sept. 1, I joined other Illinois leaders to submit Illinois' proposal to build the Superconducting Super Collider, the world's largest atom smasher.

This important project will give the U.S. the opportunity to lead the world in basic physics research well into the 21st century.

Further, it will bring worldwide prestige to Illinois, as well as many economic benefits, from the $4.5 billion in federal funding allocated for the project.

More important than the enormous scientific implications of the SSC would be the significant economic benefits to Illinois should it be located here. This project will create 6,000 construction jobs and 2,500 permanent jobs, as well as many more jobs in manufacturing, services and retail businesses.

It is estimated this will create $1.5 billion for the local economy and other businesses throughout the state. I want to emphasize that the entire state would benefit from the creation of $115 million to $140 million in additional state tax revenue during the construction process.

The supercollider itself will be enormous. It will consist of two rings 200 feet underground, roughly 52 miles in circumference.

Inside, superconducting magnets will accelerate sub-atomic particles to velocities approaching the speed of light as they circle in opposite directions.

This Superconducting Super Collider will be 20 times more powerful than the highest energy accelerator in the world, now located at Fermi National Laboratory in Batavia, Ill.

The experiments conducted with this awesome power will reveal previously undetected forms of energy and will serve as a giant microscope — for seeing the building blocks of matter and for revealing the forces that hold the universe together.

I feel very optimistic about the chances of Illinois to qualify the Superconducting Super Collider.

Although the final decision on location is not expected until 1989, we will continue to do our homework to make sure that Illinois is seen as the best possible site.

U.S. SEN. ALAN DIXON

Rotton-mouth jocs checked

Some stations have sought with sex talk and barnyard language to attract attention to themselves.

Some stations which have been regurgitating the most putrid garbage remind me how far we have backslid between Ma Perkins and "All My Children."

President Reagan, reminiscing recently, remembered kissing the leading lady so carefully that nobody's makeup got smeared.

"Today they meet and two minutes later they are eating one another's face!"

I don't know for sure that this is on the same subject, but sexism in advertising is being opposed by the Citizens Advisory Committee on Rape Prevention.

That committee has selected as the most offensive of all TV ads — from their point of view — the one showing a woman lying on the ground with a man standing over her.

This is supposed to advertise a brand of blue jeans.

My own recollection includes years when we never used such an expression as "venerable disease"; we always said "social disease."

We did not even use the word "cancer," difficult as it may be to image or to justify that degree of discretion.

We first found a way to merchandise sweat by inventing ads that warned against, "Beece Ohhhhh."

In the years since, we've elected to let it all hang out. Without the slightest subtlety we laud the merits of Tampax and Kotex and Preparation H.

We've gone from unmentionable discomfort about what we first called "irregularity" and then "menstruation" to such casualness as candy.

So, it was a comparatively small step to advertising of condoms.

I blush to think what's next. And these were the years during which we valiantly agreed to disallow the advertising of cigarettes!

And one looks on and wonders. I don't know on which is the chicken and which is the egg; whether the media establish morals and mores or reflect them.

As Shelby Friedman said: "I remember when TV evangelism was in its infancy, now it's in its adultery."

Local men attend veterans' reunion

A reunion of World War II 37th Division veterans, which in Cleveland earlier this month, was attended by two local men and their wives.

John Favier and Bill Coyle, both of Granite City, and their wives were among 300 people attending from many states.

The division took part in four years of combat in the South Pacific, invading Guadalcanal, Bougainville, New Guinea and, finally, the Philippines at Luzon.

Fifty veterans from the 145th Infantry part of the 37th Division got together during the affair to relive personal experiences. Some of the men had not seen each other for 42 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Favier also drove from Ohio to Syracuse, N.Y., to visit a nephew and his family.

Mark 11:23 "...He shall have whatsoever he saith."

Jesus surely wanted to teach us about the power of believing prayer, he said, "Whoever shall say and not doubt, he shall have WHAT SO EVER he saith."

Whoever means you! You can pray and get results, Jesus said you could. And the more critical your situation, the more amazing the answers to your prayers.

Whoever means exactly that! God can do anything. He can solve your problems. He can heal your body. He can forgive your sins. On and on it goes. Whatsoever need you have.

Why not try prayer today? Find yourself a quiet place. Bow your head and pray out loud. Talk to God just as you would a friend. You can have what you say. Today!

St. Mary's to celebrate 75th year

St. Mary's Holy Name Boosters held a monthly meeting at Engelbert Hall, Madison. The Rev. Jim Keefner opened the meeting with a prayer.

Frank Vrabec, president, conducted the meeting. An announcement was made concerning the 75th Diamond Jubilee celebration of the parish planned for Nov. 27. Bishop Joseph Ryan of Springfield, Ill., will celebrate a 5 p.m. Mass, to be followed by a dinner and dance.

The group has purchased drapes and carpeting for the Parish Center, and has also given a donation for church expenses to Rev. Keefner. A donation was also made to the Sisters of Divine Providence for their fellow nuns in China, who will use the funds for a new home.

A lunch was served by Bob Griewe to 35.

George and Dorothy Vasiloff of Madison are announcing the birth of their first great-grandchild, Amber Lynn Papen was born Sept. 15 at St. Joseph's Hospital in Alton. She weighed 7 pounds, 7 ounces. Her parents are Joseph and Angela (Stepanek) Papen of Brussels, Ill., formerly Granite City residents.

Matthew Owca, son of Ellen and Marvin Owca, celebrated his eighth birthday Sept. 18.

A party featured a sports theme.

Attending were his sisters, Laura and Elizabeth; grandparents, Wilma and Stanley Owca and Billie and Court Bosworth; Curtis and Emma Bosworth and son, Timothy; Jeanne and Bill Weidner and daughter, Deanne.

Matthew is a fourth-grade student at Parkview School in Granite City and is active in soccer.

600 honor Dorothy Hinson

Dorothy Hinson, Department President of the American Legion Auxiliary in Illinois, was honored at a homecoming party Saturday, Sept. 12, from 2 p.m. to midnight at the Venice-Madison Post 307 American Legion Home in Venice.

The guest of honor was driven to Post 307 in a horse drawn carriage from her home in Madison. Miss Poppy, Amanda Foley, escorted her to and from the carriage.

Many other auxiliary members accompanied the procession from the Hinson home to the post's parking lot on Broadway. As she arrived at the Post 307 entrance, Hinson was greeted with bells ringing, a release of multi colored balloons and 200 well wishers.

Refreshments and entertainment were provided by auxiliary and Post 307 members. Featured entertainers for the day and evening hours were Ruthie's Ragtime Band from Granite City, Mark Moback of St. Louis, the Future of American Chorus of St. Louis, the Meyer Twins from Edwardsville, the Happy Strings Junior Tamburitans of Madison and the Alley Cat Band.

Approximately 600 persons attended the event throughout the afternoon and evening including Clayborn Lofton, Department Commander of the American Legion and his wife, Irene, from Champaign, Edna Florence, Departmental Chapeau of Eight and Forty from LaGrange, Ill., and Jules Corbett of Chicago, Department senior vice commander.

Other distinguished guests were Mayor John Bellcoff of Madison, State Sen. Sam Vadalabene of Edwardsville, State Rep. Sam Wolf of Granite City and numerous state Auxiliary and Legion officers, several past department presidents and commanders and other friends from throughout Illinois.

Family vacation in Texas

Mr. and Mrs. Tom (Deloris) Scott, 305 W. Chain of Rocks Road, have returned from a vacation trip to Beaumont, Texas. The trip featured a ferry boat ride to Galveston Island, where they toured the submarine naval base at Sea Wolf Parks.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Fulmer, 601 Margaret Ave., drove to Boloxi, Miss., during the weekend. They returned Sunday after stopping in Vaughn, Miss., where they toured the Casey Jones Railroad Museum.

Former resident, Marilyn Irvin, now of Orlando, Fla., eat breakfast at Bonanza Restaurant with old friends Louisa Hall and Rowena Mikolaszuk, of Granite City. Later, they visited Wilson Park. Irvin then went to Bruns, Ill., to visit her son, Gary Irvin, and his family.

At the Mitchell Fall Festival, trophies were presented to participants in the Mitchell Athletic Club summer programs.

Those receiving first-place trophies in softball in the Dixie Division were: Katie Curran, Sara Curran, Callie Kravel, Amy McDowell, Lisa Poole, Heather Shafer, Holly Shafer, Susan Tesary, Jamie Wallace, Heather Weathers and Emily Worthen. The team was coached by Debbie and Terry Wallace.

Jerry and Diana Turner, 5175 Old Alton Road, and Hank and Georgia Hindman, 2204 Dewey Ave., have returned home after a 5,700-mile motorcycle tour of the western states. The two couples made the trip to visit their children, Turner's daughter and the Hindman's son, Ron and Laura Hindman. He is stationed at the Mountain Home Air Force Base in Mountain Home, Idaho. The cyclists also visited the Hindman's oldest son, the Rev. David Hindman, and family, in Merced, Calif.

Among the places they visited were Estes Park, Dinosaur National Monument, and the Rocky Mountain National Park in Colorado, Flaming Gorge in Wyoming; Redwood National Forest, Yosemite National Forest and Lake Tahoe in California, and Reno, Nev.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Duniphan, 633 Chouteau Ave., hosted dinner in their home last week for his sister, Claudene Reed, her daughter and granddaughter, all of Duniphan, Mo., his father, Leonard Duniphan, McGee, Mo., and his brother, Lowell Duniphan, Granite City. They were here to attend the Prince family reunion.

Homemakers attend convention

Local Homemakers Extension Association members attended the 51st National Conference in Indianapolis.

Granite City members attending were Ronna Ribble, Elizabeth Schmidt and Leneil Lesage. "Beyond the Horizon — A New Image" was the theme of the conference conducted by Eleanor Whittemore, president. About 2,178 delegates, representing 46 states and Puerto Rico, attended.

Keynote speaker Linda Lugenia Arey discussed "Women and the Year of the Bicentennial." Arey is a special assistant to President Ronald Reagan.

Frank Basile, vice president of the Gene B. Gluck Co., assisted participants discover their own personality style with the program "Putting It All Together and Understanding Ourselves and Others."

Educational workshops and learning sessions included "Hello World" at which exchange homemakers presented highlights of their trip to foreign lands to study different lifestyles. "Houses Have Histories" acquainted the audience with historic homes and gave a brief overview of major architectural styles. Another subject, "Food Trends," showed food in the 1980s is more than something to eat, and "What's In, What's Out?" was on cultural arts, textiles and clothing. "Spice Up Your Life" concerned herbal gardens.

The Indiana Extension Homemakers Chorus entertained. At the Central Region banquet, entertainment was provided by a male glee club from Purdue University.

Other activities included a cultural arts exhibit of handmade items. Schmidt received a blue ribbon for her entry, a tatted angel, a heritage art.

Tours of historic areas and museums were enjoyed by the delegates. The 1988 national conference will be held in Charlotte, N.C., with the theme "Footprints for the Future."

Church youths plan barbecue

The young people of Briarcliff Pentecostal Church, 1120 W. Pontoon Road, will host a barbecue fund-raising project Saturday, Sept. 26, at the church and Schnuck Market, 3801 Nameoki Road.

Pork sandwiches will cost $2, pork plates $3, beef sandwiches $2.50. Carryouts will also be available, and desserts and beverages will cost an additional amount.

A smoked turkey will be awarded as prize for the day at the conclusion of the day.

Minister to participate in symbolic bike hike

Dr. Manuel Tamayo, minister of Central Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), will be joining with five other bikers Oct. 10 as they travel from Kansas City, Mo., to Louisville, Ky., for the opening of the General Assembly at the Louisville Convention Center on Oct. 15.

He will meet with the group in Belleville and be its guide. Ministers and congregational members have been holding the ride since 1981. The General Assembly is held in different cities every other year, and participants take this method of travel because they view it as a symbolic journey. They carry only a change of clothes and must rely on people they meet for food and shelter. They also have an opportunity to meet with various congregations along their route and to discuss the reconciliation work of the Disciples of Christ.

As a side benefit this year, Dr. Tamayo is soliciting support from church members to raise $500 for an annual Reconciliation Appeal, through pledges of various amounts toward his 250-mile trip.

Past participants have ranged in age from ten-year-olds to an 82-year-old man, who outlasted two college students when the temperatures neared 100 degrees.

The idea for this trip originated in 1981 with a group of ministers who had two things in common — they were avid bike riders, and they were also in the reconciliation ministry. They decided by choosing this simple way of travel that they could visit various reconciliation projects supported by the Disciples of Christ.

Reconciliation ministry is a ministry that emerged in the '60s, and deals with poverty programs. Programs are intended to help those who are unable to qualify for help from other sources. Those who are benefit today include rural farmers. Poverty is a problem for an ever-increasing range of people, and help is not always available to them, a church spokesman said.

In the early 1970s, Dr. Tamayo was the Disciple representative to La Rosa Units, a farm-labor ministry in the central west sector of Ohio, where church groups worked with laborers who were living in work camps and earning wages far lower than welfare assistance allowances. The work had been promised food and housing, but often received neither. Seventy-five percent of the laborers were American citizens, many from the Appalachia and the Ozarks, as well as from Texas.

Dr. Tamayo's task was to report to the National Council of Churches on discrepancies which he could discover, and assist, with the help of church volunteers, in helping workers get settled. The La Rosa Ministry was supported by both Protestant and Roman Catholic denominations.

After 20 years, this ministry has shown marked improvements, but only because of the persistence of the National Council of Churches in doing what the land owners and community people would not and could not accomplish on their own.

Tamayo is optimistic about reaching his goal of $500, a spokesman said. All contributions and checks can be payable to Central Christian Church-Reconciliation Bike Ride, and sent to 2020 Johnson Road.

The return trip will be swift; all participants and their bikes will travel some by means of cars and trucks.

Faith Chapel Church plans 32nd anniversary services

The 32nd anniversary of the Faith Chapel General Church, 644 Ashland Ave., will be celebrated Sunday, Sept. 27, with all services and a basket dinner to be served at noon.

The Rev. James McNeely, former pastor of the church, will preach during the afternoon services, with special singing and a foot washing.

The church began under a tent on an empty lot where the Clifford Dunham home stands at 633 Chouteau Ave. on Sept. 6, 1955, when the Rev. C.L. Maricle brought his tent, his wife provided an organ and the ILLMO Association of Church provided the chairs. The William Boerckle family, 625 Chouteau Ave., furnished the electricity for a revival, which was termed "a great success with 14 people going to the altar and later being baptised," a spokesman said.

The same year on Sept. 27, the ILLMO Presbytery gathered under the tent and organized a church. Charter members were Willie Myers, Bernice Myers, George Land, Lottie Land, Lorene Yount, Dave Yount, Frank Aliene and Alene Quidine. The Rev. Willard Myers was chosen as pastor.

A short time later, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkerson, who lived on Barkley Avenue near Poag Road, offered the use of their garage to shelter services. As the weather began to turn cold, the group sought another building, but none was available. Although the roof leaked everywhere except around the altar, they stayed. They installed a fuel oil heater and used old newspapers to fill the air holes around the rafters. Meanwhile, they continued their search for a new home.

A garage-type building was bought and erected on the site where the present church building now stands. The first services in the new building were held in January 1956.

In a few weeks, the group decided the building was too small and preparations were made to build a larger church. The garage was moved to the back of the lot and work on the new building was started in the spring of 1956. Later an auditorium was added. It was dedicated in September 1957.

On Feb. 28, 1958, a fire started near the space heater, but went out before it was discovered, leaving holes in the oil-soaked floor. Soon after, a furnace was purchased and installed by the congregation. During 1969 and 1970, a forced-air furnace and air conditioner were added.

As the church building grew, so did the attendance, from a few to a record of 254 for services Easter Sunday in 1980.

The public is invited to attend Sunday services, which begin at 9:45 a.m.

New Hope plans revival services

Revival services will begin at 7 each evening Sept. 25 through Oct. 2 at New Hope Church, Illinois 3 and Moffitt Avenue, the Rev. Wayne Shockley, the host pastor, announced.

The guest speaker will be the Rev. Raymond Singsdill, who is the catalytic language missionary for the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma.

Bethesda plans Sunday concert

Cornerstone 33AD will be appearing in concert at Bethesda Baptist Church, 3035 Nameoki Drive, at 2 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 27.

The group, organized in 1978, still has its original members. Kim Jennings plays keyboard, with her voice featured on many of the group's songs. Kent Jennings plays bass guitar. Glen Gobel is manager and spokesman for the Cornerstones; and in addition to doing lead vocals, he plays acoustic and electric guitar.

Vocalist Gary O'Neal, baritone, sings, plays the keyboard and writes songs. Bob Sullivan sings tenor.

The public is invited to attend, the host pastor said.

Gabriel Shrine officers meet

The past officers of Gabriel Shrine gathered at Jerry's Cafeteria for a dinner meeting Sept. 12, with Virginia John and Ross Henley as hostesses.

Cheer greetings were prepared for Mary Billrey, Gussie McKisick and Henry Thomas, who were unable to attend.

Plans were made for a Christmas party and gift exchange to be held Dec. 12 at Jerry's Cafeteria.

At the close of the business meeting, games were played and attendance prizes were awarded to Effie Johnson and Henry Ashauer.

Others in attendance were Corinne McCollum, Mary Peterson, Agnes Ashauer, Mary French, Karmyn Edmonds, Donna Thomas, Della Aulabaugh, Lucille Tabor, Earl French and Oco Woods.

Eagle Scouts organize group

The Cahokia Mounds Council, Boy Scouts of America, is starting a local committee of the National Eagle Scout Association.

All Eagle Scouts, regardless of age, are eligible to join. The first meeting of the local committee will be at 9 a.m. Oct. 3 at the Council Campground to be held at Camp Sunnen, Potosi, Mo.

For more information, call Bud Charbonnier at 931-5505 or 876-3313. The Cahokia Mound Council takes in all of Bond County and the Southern half of Madison County.

Church Women United plan drugs, AIDS forum

Quad-City Church Women United will host its Fall Forum on Drugs and AIDS Awareness and Prevention for churches and schools, Wednesday, Sept. 30, at the Second Baptist Church, 2100 Illinois Ave.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. followed by a forum from 10 a.m. to noon on drugs. After a lunch break, at 1 p.m. a forum on AIDS will be conducted. Program consultants include Sharon McBrien of Piassa Health Care, who will discuss drugs; Nancy Krchniak, assistant regional superintendent of Schools in Madison County; and Trish Demaris Cravens, Madison County AIDS Prevention Program.

Representing Granite City District 9 will be Ellen Voyles and Robert Mehelec will attend from the Madison School District.

The president of the foundation is David C. Stabenfeldt.

Schrader is an elder at Florissant Valley Christian Church and has been active in the local, state and national organizations of Church Women United, including leadership as chairperson of the 1984 CWU National Ecumenical Assembly. She also participates in many community endeavors, including membership on several advisory boards.

162 Masons will receive 33rd degree

One of the country's oldest fraternal organizations will conduct its 175th annual meeting in Boston from Sept. 25 to Oct. 1, when more than 1,000 Thirty-third Degree Masons gather for the 1987 meeting of the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite Freemasonry for the Northern Jurisdiction, USA.

Highlight will be the conferral of the degree on 162 Scottish Rite Masons of the Thirty-second Degree who were nominated and elected to receive the additional honor a year ago. It's awarded for outstanding achievement in the fraternity, or for contributions to others reflecting credit on Freemasonry. The ceremony will be held Sept. 30.

The 17 Illinois recipients will include Marshall L. Hartmann, Belleville; Albert T. Walter, Waterloo; and William R. Witham, O'Fallon.

Costello caught in McNary-Schoemehl clash

Regional Roundup

By Bill Winter

Will Jerry Costello effectively use his big campaign fund to become congressman? It's too early to know, but he is becoming embroiled in a controversy arising from an unexpected source — his role as chairman of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

Composed mainly of elected officials like St. Clair County Board Chairman Costello, East-West reviews regional projects and recommends federal approval or disapproval.

When East-West was formed, politicians praised it as a needed counterforce to the Bi-State Development Agency. Bi-State commissioners are not elected; five are chosen by the Illinois governor and five by the Missouri governor.

Appointees shouldn't be given much power, most elected officials seem to believe.

Unraveling of an atmosphere of regional cooperation is being blamed on football. And we're not referring to the pro players' strike this week against Bill Bidwill and other team owners.

When serious talk began about building a domed football stadium, a falling-out occurred between the once-friendly St. Louis Mayor Vince Schoemehl and St. Louis County Supervisor Gene McNary.

The mayor also became angry at Bidwill, whom he is suing in an effort to keep the Big Red at downtown's Busch Stadium, and at the Sverdrup engineering firm, developer of Riverport, where McDonnell would be constructed.

Sverdrup was squeezed out of consideration for some St. Louis city contracts this year.

On Monday evening, a St. Louis County circuit judge ruled against a proposed Nov. 3 Maryland Heights ballot question on creating a domed stadium. But the dispute and tension continue.

Where does Costello fit into all of this? For starters, he and his buddy Vince are Democrats and McNary is a Republican.

Although McNary has often withheld part of the tax funds Bi-State thinks it deserves, he is not totally antagonistic. He knows Bi-State is run by members picked by two Republican governors, whereas East-West is Democratic dominated.

At a closed East-West discussion Sept. 16, Costello and Schoemehl proposed a seven-member not-for-profit board to oversee the design and construction of MetroLink, the proposed 18-mile light-rail transit system that would link East St. Louis with Lambert Airport and points in between, later being extended to other locations in Metro East and St. Louis County.

McNary and Bi-State Chairman Wayne Spann reacted with alarm, saying MetroLink ultimately will be operated by Bi-State and there is no point in vesting important design-build authority in some other entity.

The new seven-member board would consist of Costello, Schoemehl, McNary, R. Hal Deane and three Bi-State commissioners, one each from Metro East, St. Louis and St. Louis County. McNary thinks St. Louis County would pay most of the local costs and yet have the least voice.

Issues like these won't be resolved overnight. But they merit full and prompt attention. There is urgency, many leaders are convinced, because the growing friction is eroding prospects for metropolitan area progress on matters that require close regional cooperation and coordination.

Until the stadium and light-rail disagreements are resolved, the leaders say privately, a lot of unrelated proposals and programs are destined to become casualties. The trouble with warfare is that innocent bystanders as well as troops and commanders are hurt.

Meanwhile, the behind-closed-doors maneuvering doesn't enhance the image of officials like Costello, who will be seeking votes in 1988. McNary and Schoemehl won't face voters that soon and have shown they are able to get re-elected with relative ease.

Schoemehl is warning that McNary's stand could kill the project for which the region is relying heavily on federal grants.

That wouldn't make Bill Haine unhappy. The Alton lawyer serves on the Madison County Board and is chairman of the Madison County Transit District, which has built its headquarters facility at Interstate 270 and 111.

Haine once ran a virtual dead-heat with Nick Byron and Dick Allen for the Democratic state's attorney nomination. Byron, the incumbent, won the primary but lost in the general election.

Haine, who frequently engages in verbal bashing of Bi-State, has transferred much of the bus service decision-making power from Bi-State to his district.

Convinced that MetroLink makes no sense and wouldn't succeed if built, Haine has obtained assurances that Bi-State won't use Madison County funds for preliminary costs of a light-rail system.

A movie about Broadway dance productions, "All That Jazz," included the song, "Everything Old Is New Again."

That phrase is certainly true of light rail, which would resemble the interurban cars that formerly criss-crossed Metro East.

The tracks no longer exist here, but the right-of-way toward Edwardsville can be seen in East Granite City and adjacent to Kirkpatrick Homes. The Alton route skirted the Nareski Road extension leading to Mitchell.

Another film, "Music Man," featured a barbershop quartet that sang, "There is no sin in sinners."

And there is no sin in synergy ("combined effective action"), as is being proven by the Suburban Journals.

In contrast to the current political clashes, a high degree of regional cooperation has been achieved by the various Journal-owned newspapers, like the Press-Record Journal, which has instant computer access to staff coverage of events like the East-West Gateway meeting.

In addition to improved regional and state news contacts, we also have a Washington news bureau to monitor and report on developments affecting the local community. It, too, has a fast computer link to our news desks.

State news

'Portable' breath tests for DUI get state OK

Gov. James R. Thompson has signed a series of law enforcement bills that will give police officers another tool in determining the condition of a motorist driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol and tougher hazardous waste disposal laws.

S.B. 1283 allows police officers to use a preliminary breath screening test to help determine a motorist's level of alcohol or drug influence before taking a suspect in for more evidential testing. Officers will be able to use a portable device approved by the Department of Public Health. The preliminary test will be used prior to arrest but the individual detained is not required to submit to the test. Test results may be used by a defendant in any DUI administrative or court proceeding.

H.B. 1496 makes it easier to prosecute illegal hazardous waste disposal suspects by changing the required mental state of violators from the "conscious disregard" to "knowing" their action will cause harm. H.B. 1497 states that persons convicted of criminal hazardous waste violations, in addition to civil and criminal penalties, also will have to forfeit an amount equal to the value of profits earned or savings realized as a result of the violation. Any vehicle used in committing illegal hazardous waste dumping also must be given up.

'Parents Too Soon' gets award from Ford
The Ford Foundation has given the state a $100,000 award on behalf of its "Parents Too Soon Program," which works to reduce the incidence of teenage pregnancy through education and career counseling, day care and nutrition education, and by providing health care services.

Cozy way stations for tourists may multiply

Bed and breakfast way stations for tourists may start sprouting along the roads as a result of the state's new act that allows municipalities and counties in unincorporated areas to regulate bed and breakfast establishments and to impose minimum standards for sanitation, fire and safety, rather than those imposed on larger hotels and motels.

"For those who enjoy hunting, fishing, hiking and other outdoor activities, the Bed and Breakfast Act will mean new opportunities to offer accommodations in some of the state's most majestic areas, from the Great River Road to the Shawnee National Forest. And it will mean new opportunities for people such as farmers and senior citizens in rural areas to offer travelers a place to stay close to the locations they visit," said Gov. James R. Thompson.

It's apple pickin' time at orchards

By Pamela Seibert
Journal correspondent

One of the nicest things about the end of summer is that it marks the advent of apple season. Although supermarkets make it possible to buy the fruit in numerous varieties practically year-round, there is nothing quite like biting into an apple, crisp and juicy, fresh from the tree.

A number of orchards in this area have strayed from the tradition of hiring pickers, to a "pick your own" style, providing a wonderful opportunity for a family outing.

One such fruit orchard is Schlueter's Orchard and Family Farm, three miles south of downtown Belleville at Illinois 150 and Old Freeburg Road. At various times during the summer, Schlueter's offers different types of fruits, from blueberries and blackberries to peaches and grapes, and late in the season, to apples and raspberries, which are presently available in abundance.

"We started the 'pick your own' idea with peaches about 10 years ago, as a sort of reaction to the difficulties involved in hiring people to do the picking," said Floyd Schlueter, owner of the orchard. "It worked out so well, we went to 'pick your own' apples and the rest about eight years ago."

The apple season begins in early September and continues through October, Schlueter said.

His farm produces many types, including Paula Red and Ozark Gold, both of which keep well. The orchard also has Jonathan, Golden Delicious and Red Delicious apples. All are excellent eating apples, and the Golden Delicious is particularly tasty in applesauce, pies and other baked treats.

Schlueter has 40 acres in apple trees, averaging 100 trees per acre. "Some orchard growers will plant a greater density of trees, but because we are a 'pick your own' and wagons bringing people out must move among the trees, this works out best," Schlueter said. "We decided long ago that everyone is better served by our maintaining a park-like atmosphere."

Stars finally beat Lewis & Clark, 1-0

By Gary King
Correspondent

GRANITE CITY — Larry Petri was thinking numbers Tuesday.

The Granite City Campus soccer coach had watched his Stars fall from a barn-burning 3-0 start to a 3-2 skid. He had watched his team take a 1-0 lead into the final minute of Saturday's game with Washington University's JV team, only to somehow end on the short end of a 3-2 verdict.

And now, just as his squad had apparently regressed from being in a rut to spinning its wheels, Petri and the Stars were to face Lewis and Clark Community College, a team they had failed to beat in 14 previous tries.

But when the final buzzer sounded, the only numbers in Petri's mind were GCC 1, LCCC 0.

Petri tried to put the importance of the game into words, but his ear-to-ear grin just kept getting in the way.

"There's no doubt this is one of the biggest wins we've had since I've been here," Petri said. "And there's no doubt this win should be a huge confidence builder for us, a big win we can take with us down the road."

"We've waited a long time for this, and hopefully now that we've got it, we can do something with it."

The Stars' Pat Phillips did something with what he got midway through the second half when he took a perfect crossing pass from forward Tom Bufe in the goalmouth and lobbed a Michelangelo headball past Bucks' goalie Andy Scanlon with 22:38 on the clock.

"It was a perfect pass and I just happened to be in position," Phillips said. "That was my first headball of the year, and I guess it came at a pretty good time. "This is a big win for us. We don't care about how many times we've lost to them in the past. This one is all that matters now."

After looking each other square in the eye for the first 45 minutes of action, both squads squandered early scoring opportunities in the second half.

LCCC failed to draw blood on their best chance of the game when a Clint Tucker shot got past GCC keeper Scott Clynes only to ricochet off the right post.

Eight minutes later, GCC's Todd Jones slid behind Granite City native Dennis Gausault and Scanlon, only to hit the top of the goalpost with his short-range missile.

The Bucks got two more decent scoring chances in the final six minutes of play, but a stingy Clynes negated both opportunities.

"We both had our chances, but they tucked their away and we didn't," said LCCC coach Tim Rooney. "That was really the game in a nutshell. They played a real good game and they wanted it more than we did."

"They were well-prepared, well-coached and they executed well. We have no excuses or complaints. It was just a good hard-fought game."

And while Petri wasn't shy about basking in the moment, he realized the moment would have to be soon forgotten.

"We beat Forest Park once and we've beaten Lewis and Clark," he said. "This should help us to start believing in ourselves."

"But the real important thing now is that we go on from here. We're young as far as numbers and we're starting to correct some of the mistakes which are occurring on the field."

"They'll (LCCC) get another shot at us, and we'll get another shot at them in the playoffs. We've got to maintain our intensity."

Rooney said he hopes Tuesday's loss will serve as a wake-up call for his Bucks, who dropped to 6-2 with the defeat.

"We'll see them again, and the next time we'll know that we have to be ready. We can't take GCC for granted anymore. They can win the region as well as we can, and they proved that today."

The Stars, now 4-2-1 and 1-1 in conference play, will take their momentum into this week-end's Johnson County Tournament, to be held in Kansas City.

"This weekend is another test for us," Petri said. "If we can go there and play well, then we'll really be back on track again."

Trojans get tie as Gushleff strikes for 2 more goals

Gene Briggs wouldn't have minded a 79-minute game on Tuesday.

His Trojan soccer team nursed a 2-1 lead into the final minute of play against Waterloo Zibault at Madison, but the Hawks got the equalizer with 40 seconds to play to come away with a 2-2 tie.

"Both of our goals came from defensive mistakes on our part," Briggs said as his team moved to 3-3, 3-1 in Mid-South conference play. "I've been fighting those mistakes all year. Defense is no problem for us. If we can hold the other team to me goal or less we'll be just fine."

Offense is no problem as long as Jerry Gushleff keeps up his Wayne Gretzky/Steve Zungul impersonation. Gushleff pumped in his 13th and 14th goals of the year as the Trojans overcame a -0 deficit early in the fourth quarter. Neil Hlak received an assist on the first goal while Steve Mainridge and Rex Whitehead helped set up the second goal.

"It was a game I felt we should have won," Briggs said. "We got the lead on them late, but our defensive breakdowns hurt us again. Terry Jackson (goalkeeper) couldn't be blamed or either of the goals."

The Trojans face Weslin in another conference game at some on Friday.

The Warriors are 5-0 in the conference and 13-3 overall. They host O'Fallon today at Arlington. Granite City will also compete in the Centralia Invitational on Saturday beginning at 9 a.m. They face Wood River, Roxana and Edwardsville in a quad meet next Tuesday.

The Panthers feature the area's leading golfer, Steve Gatzbrook, who is averaging 36.8 per round.

Warriors take sixth straight on Pyle's goal

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — Until recently, Rick Pyle was just that tiny guy hanging out on the far right wing.

No, we're not talking about his political leanings. It's just that the diminutive forward for the Warrior soccer team had found himself at a wing position on the front line, often too far away from the goal to be dangerous.

But Gene Baker had an idea that has paid off in a big way in recent games. Since moving the 5-3 Pyle to a striker position, Baker has watched the senior pump in six goals in the last four games. Pyle's latest tally was the only one of the evening as Granite City came away with a 1-0 win over Belleville West in a big Southwestern Conference game on Tuesday at the Gauntlet.

The win completed the first round of the conference schedule and the Warriors emerged with a perfect 4-0 slate, 1½ games ahead of Collinsville (2-1) in the SWC. Granite City's 4-1-1 record at 3-0 on Tuesday.

They have won six in a row and are 7-1 overall. For the Maroons, it was a breakthrough of sorts. They had nothing but ties in their first three league games. They are now 0-3 in conference play and suffered their first loss of the year to move them to 3-1-4 overall.

But back to Pyle. He was without a goal or a point this year until the 10-0 win over Cahokia on Sept. 15 when he got two goals. He added a hat trick in the 6-0 win over Belleville East on Sept. 18 and got the winner on Tuesday. He sat out Saturday's game at Quincy with an injury, but he has already scored six goals in his last three games.

"I had to convince him that he could play the striker position," Baker said. "He was used to

Unbeaten, winless teams next for area gridder

3-0 Kahoks call on reeling Warriors

0-3 Cougars will try to slow Trojans

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — It used to be almost a week when Collinsville appeared on your football schedule. Those days could be over.

The Kahoks will be looking to enter uncharted waters — the and of the 40 record — when they roll into Granite City on Friday. You read it right, folks. The long-dormant Kahok grid program seems to be on the rise a little.

They started out last year 3-0, but one of the wins was a forfeit over Alton because of a teachers strike. They have earned all three of their wins on the field this year, including a 14-7 win over Alton last week. It was the first mid-field Southwestern Conference win for Collinsville under Bob Hollingshead.

"It was a nice win to get because we had heard some things about Collinsville not being ready to compete in the Southwestern Conference," said Hollingshead, a former assistant under Jerry McKechnie and Tom Wroblek at Granite City. "There is a different attitude here. The kids are talking about winning, which is something new for them."

The Warriors and Kahoks were both 3-0 when they met last year and Granite City came away with a 20-0 win in the rain at the Football Bowl. That sent the Warriors on their way to the

Game tape delayed on Cencom, WINU

Friday's Granite City-Collinsville football game from Memorial Stadium will be televised on a tape-delayed basis by the Cencom Cable System.

The game will be recorded and broadcast at 7:30 p.m. Saturday on cable systems throughout the area.

The game will also be broadcast on KPLR-TV (Channel 11) is handling the play-by-play and Jim Baer of the Suburban Journals is doing the color commentary.

The game will also be broadcast on a tape-delayed basis by WINU-AM (1510) in Highland. Mike Kelley will do the play-by-play, with the game to be aired after the Cardinals-Cubs game on Saturday afternoon. That game will start at 12:05, so the football game should be on at approximately 3:30.

conference title and the playoffs and started the Kahoks on a downhill slide.

"I'm happy for Bob and his program," said Warrior coach Ron Yates. "Bob and I have been friends for a long time. They have a good attitude over there and it's a big game for both teams."

The Kahoks might want to get all the wins they can this week and against Edwardsville next week. After that, it's Belleville East, Belleville West, Belleville Althoff and East St. Louis. The Warriors (1-2, 0-1 in the SWC) are desperate to win also, with East Side, Althoff and Springfield Griffin next on the schedule.

"Both teams really have to get this one," said Yates.

The Warriors are reeling from a convincing 29-0 loss to Belleville West on Friday.

"We have to bounce back," Yates said. "I think the players are down a little. Some of them might have been resting on their laurels from last year. But I hope the West game might have awakened them."

Yates hopes his offense can hang onto the ball rather than turn it over seven times.

"We have to control the ball and develop a passing game," he said. "If we don't start to throw, we will be seeing a nine-man line and that will make it tough on our runners."

The Kahoks don't have much of a passing game, either. They rely on the running of Tom Gilliland and Todd Blaylock. Gilliland has 300 yards in three games and three touchdowns. Blaylock has 174 yards and four touchdowns.

"We had Gilliland at split end last year, but they both have MADISON — For a team without speed, catching the Madison Cougars can be as futile as Willie E. Coyote trying to snag Roadrunner.

The Breese Central Cougars will be in the Coyote-seat Friday when they square off with the Trojans in a 7:35 p.m. contest at Breese.

The season has been a series of frustrations for the Cougars, who will enter Friday's game looking for their first win in four starts.

Last week, Central was steamrolled by the up-and-coming Carlyle Indians, 32-12.

And then there's the Trojans, who at their coach Don Smith said, "Either look real good or real bad."

In last Friday's 32-6 rout of Waterloo, Madison's Ian Smith looked real good in making the Bulldogs look real bad. Smith scored all five of the Trojans touchdowns — three of which came on interception returns — to spread the word that he was a corner-turning victory for Madison.

And while Ian Smith was busy stealing the show, Don Smith was busy basically liking what he saw, which was improved execution by the Trojan defense and offense.

Still, the Trojan coach said Breese Central is not to be overlooked or underestimated.

"They're a better ball team than they were last year," Smith said after last week's win. "They hung tough against Freeburg and only lost 14-6. Freeburg is tough. We can't afford to take them too lightly or we could be in trouble."

And if Madison is to stay out of trouble, they will need to contain Breese's backfield squad of quarterback Craig Becker and running backs Scott Nelson and Lyle Ratermann.

"I don't think they have a lot of speed from what I've seen of them," Smith said. "So we'll need to use our speed to our advantage. If we do that and contain the blocks on offense, we should be OK."

Defensively, the Trojans limited Waterloo to a measly 23 yards of offense last week. And that was without the services of linebacker Craig Ingram, who, when healthy, is capable of being one of the hardest hitters in the metro east.

Craig broke some bones in the top of his hand against Columbia," Smith said. "He's had a special cast made for him, but he only played a little against Waterloo. It was just hurting him too bad."

Smith said Ingram's status for Friday's game is still questionable. If Ingram is unable to play, Madison might go to a 6-1 defensive alignment with Stephen Boyd going it solo at the linebacker position.

Aside from their 49-0 loss to Columbia two weeks ago, passing against the Trojan secondary has been like trying to break into Fort Knox with a toothpick.

Free safety Ian Smith leads the area in interceptions with six, three of which have been returned for touchdowns. Flanking Smith at the two cornerback positions are Derrick Truway and Devlin Rockett, both of whom pose a constant interception threat.

Offensively, Madison will go with the fleet Smith and powerful Ricky Ball out of the backfield. So far this season, Smith has rushed for 460 yards, while Ball has chipped up 215 yards of turf.

Madison's air attack will rest on the potent arm of quarterback Quincy Williams and the dangerous hands of Boyd. The Williams-Boyd connection has been good for aerial strikes of 36 and 63 yards already this season.

Smith said Friday's game is one that could either get the Trojans rolling or get them derailed.

Following the tilt with Breese Central, the Trojans will be looking at a less-than-enviable final five weeks, in which they will face Duplo, Red Bud, Freeburg, Assumption and Quincy Notre Dame.

Lady Warriors can't quite top Maroons

By Carl Jacobs
Staff writer

BELLEVIEW—Don Deterding wants his Lady Warriors to move in the direction of Belleville West.

No, Deterding is not the Al Davis of high school volleyball and he has no ambition to physically move his team. He just envisions them competing on the level of the mighty (10-0) Maroons.

If the second game of the match between Granite City and West is any indication of how good the Lady Warriors can play, Granite City is not far from the elite in volleyball. But if the first and third games are a barometer, the Lady Warriors will need some work to join the elite company.

Granite City played almost a perfect game in defeating the Maroons 18-16 in what would have to be one of the most exciting matches this season. However, the Lady Warriors performed less brilliantly in the first match—losing 15-2 and in the third contest—falling 15-4.

The win lifted the Lady Maroons to 3-0 in Southwestern Conference play and 10-0 overall. The loss was the first for the Lady Warriors since an opening-night loss to Edwardsville. They are 4-2 overall and 2-1 in the conference.

"I was happy we took such a good team to three games," said Deterding. "The second game showed we can compete with them. But the first and third games show we have a ways to go in competing with them for all three games of a match. Volleyball is an emotional battle with momentum changes, so concentration is a big part and we didn't have it (concentration) in the first and third games."

Belleville West coach Charles Rodman agreed with Deterding. "When you get the momentum on your side you usually get the good breaks and get the other team on the run," he said. "We did that to them in the first game and the third game but they got the momentum in the second game."

Rodman had nothing but praise for the Lady Warriors.

"We knew they were a scrappy and competitive team," he said. "I knew when we beat them 15-2 they were going to come right back at us and play that much harder. That's a mark of a good team and I am not looking forward to going into their gym later in the year."

In the first game, Wendy Knollman's spike tied the game at 1-1 but nine straight points by the Maroons took the luster out of things.

"We had some mental lapses in the first game but we didn't play as bad as the score looked," Deterding said. "West is a team that can really make you look bad if you don't play an excellent game against them."

The Lady Warriors then showed their stuff in the second game. Tammy LeVault's serve got Granite City the early lead and Knollman's serve upped the ante to 2-0. West then grabbed the lead 4-2, but a moving violation and a Knollman spike tied the game.

Bodies went flying all over the place as the teams traded points. Both Knollman and LeVault made diving stops while Beth Earney made two blocks to give the Warriors points. West also had it acrobatic team in top form. Kim Johansson flew through the air to not only save a ball but directed it to edge of the court for a West point.

The Maroons came out on top of the flurry with a 12-9 lead. A Knollman spike and a Belleville hit-out brought Granite City within one 12-11. With help from Nancy Mason and Jennifer Jones, West took a 14-11 lead. But the Lady Warriors were far from finished.

Knollman came through with a powerful spike. Two West spikes went out and LeVault slammed a ball to the ground to give Granite City a 15-14 lead. Kim Halusan tied the game with a spike and Mason's serve that Knollman couldn't handle put West back on top in the seesaw battle.

LeVault got the Lady Warriors the service back with a kill. Then Earney and LeVault's gang block tied the score 16-16.

LeVault's serve gave Granite City a 17-16 lead and Lisa Mills' gentle tap found the floor to gain a hard-fought win.

In the last game, the Lady Warriors played better than they did in the first, but West's 9-2 lead was too much to overcome. Michelle Jeffries' tip and block cut West's margin to 9-4, but Granite City could get no closer.

Michelle Levin gets volleyball honor

Granite City native Michelle (Morgan) Levin was named the NVA District 11 volleyball player of the week for Sept. 6-12.

Levin, a 5-4 sophomore who was a redshirt last season, guided the Lady Bobcats to a second-place finish in the Baker Invitational in Baldwin City, Kan., in earning the honor. Peru State finished the week 6-2 overall in match play.

Levin was named to the all-tournament team at Baker along with teammate Kristi Olberding. She dishied out 100 assists in 12 tournament games and was 295 of 301 in setting, a 96 percent efficiency. The Lady Bobcats won five of six matches, losing in the finals to Kansas Wesleyan 15-11, 15-11.

For the week, Levin dishied out 137 assists and was 410 out of 422 in setting. She ranks second in the district in assists with an 8.3 average per game. She is also among the league leaders in serving efficiency and aces per game.

Levin is a member of the Pro-Parkettes volleyball team. Further information on volleyball is available from Park Off.

Sports briefs

Cougar Caravan makes first stop at Ravanelli's

The SIUE Alumni Association and the Cougar Club are co-sponsoring four Cougar Caravans to preview the 1987-88 Cougar sports season.

The first stop on the caravan will be at Ravanelli's Restaurant in Granite City on Oct. 5. Lynn Lashbrook, athletic director at SIUE, the coaches and the student-athletes will discuss Cougar sports and debut "The Year in Review" presentation — a look back at what the 1986-87 season brought the Cougars.

The alumni association will unveil its plans for the Bronze Boot soccer game against St. Louis University, which is scheduled for Oct. 30 in St. Louis.

Other stops on the Cougar Caravan will be at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville on Oct. 12; the Holiday Inn in Alton on Oct. 19; and the Days Inn in Edwardsville on Oct. 26.

A cash bar, hors d'oeuvres and door prizes will be presented. Each event will start at 7 p.m. For more information or for reservations, call MY CATS-1 (692-2871).

Release procedure clarified by park

The Granite City Park District would like to clarify the procedure for releasing players in the boys baseball and girls softball programs.

A child may be released from his or her team in one of two ways between Sept. 1 and Dec. 31:

- 1) A player release form should be completed, signed by both the parent and manager, submitted to the park office and then approved by the Rules and Protest Committee, or;
- 2) A player release form should be completed which indicates the reason for the release signed by either the parent or manager and approved by the Rules and Protest Committee. After a decision is rendered by the Rules and Protest Committee, the parties involved have 30 days to contest the decision.

Further explanation can be obtained by calling the Wilson Park Office at 877-3059.

Madison police, fire departments to play softball

A "grudge match" will be played on Saturday at the Third Street diamond in Madison between members of the Madison Fire Department and the Madison Police Department.

The event will begin at 8 p.m. and will involve about 30 men including members of the Auxiliary Police in Madison.

There is no charge for admission and refreshments will be available for sale. All proceeds are to be donated to Phoenix Crisis Center.

Last year the fire department team won and received the traveling trophy. Everyone will be allowed to go to bat whether they play during the game or not, a spokesman for the groups said.

'Last Chance' for softball Oct. 17-18

The Granite City Park District will sponsor the "Last Chance to Play Softball" co-ed tournament the weekend of Oct. 17-18.

The entry fee for the event is $65 per team and is due no later than 5 p.m. on Oct. 9. Team trophies will be awarded to the top three finishers. Teams must have a minimum of 12 players and a maximum of 20. In the event of rain the tournament will be held the following weekend.

Call Wake Barber at the Wilson Park Office, 877-3059, for more information.

Hockey association begins registration

Since Sept. 1, the Granite City Hockey Association has been registering children for the 1987-88 season.

To be eligible, boys and girls must be between the ages of 4 and 15 and reside in Madison County. For a $25 refundable deposit, complete sets of equipment (not including skates or sticks) are available to children under 10.

For more information, call 877-3059, 288-5184, 258-1155 or 877-2892.

Park winter teams schedule meetings

The Granite City Park District will hold organizational meetings for winter sports in the upcoming weeks.

All teams, new as well as those returning, are encouraged to attend. The schedule for the meetings is as follows:

Basketball managers, Oct. 1; broomball managers, Oct. 5; volleyball managers, Oct. 8.

All meetings will begin at 7 p.m. at the Brown Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin Avenues. For more information, call Wake Barber at the Wilson Park Office at 877-3059.

Shaw triumphs at Tri-City Speedway

By Joe Senter
Correspondent

GRANITE CITY — Bill Shaw had a perfect night as he edged Bert Cheatham in the U.M.P. late model stock car race at Tri-City Speedway.

Shaw started the 25-lap event from the front row alongside Rick Standridge and grabbed the lead at the green flag. He was untouchable for the full distance as Cheatham was right at his tailpipes but could not catch him.

John Froir, who had won the feature event at the Mid-State Raceway in White City on Friday, made it a three-way battle but had to settle for third place.

Standridge took the first heat race followed by Rodney Dial. Shaw was followed in his heat race by Cheatham.

Pace Wee Morris was the top man in the street stock division by winning the feature event and taking second place in his heat, which was won by Tim Reagan.

Dean Hoffman was second in the feature event with Reagan third and Todd Hawk fourth.

Mel Harris won the bomber car feature followed by Mike Fenton, Pat Lewis, Mike Wilson and Mike Case.

playing way over there by the bleachers on a wing position. But he is so quick and dangerous we wanted to move him closer to the goal."

Pyle now suddenly leads the team in scoring with six goals to Troy Adamitis' five. The big play of the game came with exactly one minute left in the first quarter when Maroon full-back Brian White turned the ball over to Warrior midfielder John Van Buskirk just inside West territory.

The slick sophomore made a nice run down the middle before dropping the ball off to Pyle on the right side. Maroon keeper Jay Zaber came out to meet him but Pyle's shot was too quick and beat Zaber to the far side into the bottom left-hand corner. It was Van Buskirk's first assist and point — of the year. "It was a very good play, but we had others like it," Baker said. "We had some excellent chances. Herb Heaton hit some rockets tonight, but Zaber is an excellent keeper. I still don't think he is as good as (Matt) Krekovich, though."

Zaber made nine saves as the Warriors outshot the Maroons 20-6. Once again, Krekovich was barely tested, although Jeff Opit had a couple of hard shots in the first quarter. Chris Slanczyk was just high with a header in the fourth quarter and Blake Holliday shot over the goal when he had an open shot with eight minutes left.

"We died in the second and third quarters," Maroon coach Bill Houck said. "I think we only had one shot in each of those quarters. We just can't put the ball in the back of the net. We have had 20 shots in most of our games and 35 shots in a tie with Alto. But it's tough to win here. Granite City is such a fine team and they are so confident playing here. You can't make mistakes, and that's what we did on their goal."

Heaton had two good chances in the first quarter before Pyle scored. Then Heaton's low, hard shot on a free kick was smothered by Zaber in the third quarter.

The Maroon lost their cool a little in the third quarter. Eric Rehg received a yellow card for grabbing Adamitis' shirt to prevent a breakaway, but no penalty kick was awarded. The Warriors also got no penalty kick after Heaton was hit after a whistle by Mike Gregson, who also got a card.

"It was a copout call on the foul on Herb," Baker said. "They say it has to be an intentional foul to get a kick down there, but it was after the whistle so it had to be intentional."

The Warriors did get a penalty kick when Dan Wilson was dumped in the penalty area, but Pyle hit the post with that.

"We came up and played a little better after they missed the penalty kick, but Granite City's defense was too tough," Houck said.

The Warriors have still not allowed a goal at home this year as they collected their sixth shutout of the year. It was Krekovich's second whitewashing. "We are playing very well on defense," Baker said. "Jeff Grote is doing very well clearing the ball out. Mike Seiler is doing a nice job and Mike Lane has been super all year."

Players like Kirk Mills, Seiler and Pyle have all been playing through injuries, but the Warriors continue to win.

"It's nice to get a shutout," Baker said. "Winning the conference games is good, but we're just trying to get better each game and I'm happy with the progress."

NOTES: The Warriors start the rematch in conference play when they face Alto at Gordon Moore Park tonight. The junior varsity match starts at 5 p.m. with varsity action scheduled for 7 p.m. After that, the last two state champions come to Granite City. Quincy Notre Dame (1985) will be here for a 1 p.m. game on Saturday, then Collinsville comes in for a rematch on Tuesday.

been outstanding," Hollingshead said. "We know we will have to stop their running game. We keyed on the Hogans last year (and) Whiteside hurt us."

Hollingshead said the Hawks have had trouble stopping the pass this year, so this could be the week Joe Wallace might get something going. "If we can get Joe to hit some passes and gain some confidence, that would really help,"

Yates said.

The Warriors will have to run into a line featuring 6-8, 240-pound tackle Jason Faarlberg, but Yates said it can be done.

"Outside of that big kid, we match up pretty well with them," he said. "It comes down to intensity and execution." Collinsville hasn't beaten Granite City in football since before the two high schools here merged.

"I have never beaten Ron,"

Hollingshead said. "It would be a feather in our cap if we could."

NOTES: In other Southwestern Conference action, Belleville West (1-0, 1-2 overall) will travel to East St. Louis (0-0, 3-0) for a Saturday afternoon game. Alto (0-1, 0-3) will host Edwardsville on Friday, while Belleville East (0-0, 0-3) will host DeSmet.

No joke Tigers (2-0) eye Indiana

By Jim Baer
Journal Staff Writer

The joke was getting around the University of Missouri press box last Saturday that the reason Indiana University was getting hammered 34-15 by Kentucky was because they were looking ahead to Missouri.

A funny thing happened on the way to the 1987 season. Coach Woody Widenhofer's Tigers are 2-0—their best start since 1963. The joke appears to be on the pundits for now.

In Columbia, there's a lot of talk about pay backs. The Tigers have been humiliated at home the past two seasons by Indiana: 36-17 in 1985 and 41-24 last year.

Saturday, Missouri travels to Bloomington looking for revenge. Kickoff is set for 1 p.m., and a crowd of 36,000 is expected.

The season may be only two weeks old, but it appears that Widenhofer is ready to defy the critics (Sports Illustrated and company) and their Golden Noose award by keeping his job.

Just perhaps, his younglings are coming of age. He cites two reasons for the rejuvenated program.

"First of all, we have given our players both offensive and defensive schemes they enjoy and can handle," Widenhofer said. "Secondly, we are a much better conditioned team."

Widenhofer scoffed at the idea the Missouri athletes were in good shape upon their arrival to the program.

"They didn't know the meaning of conditioning," he said. "They thought you got in shape by running six (60-yard sprints). In the pros we had guys in shape. The (Pittsburgh) Steelers ran the stadium steps and lifted weights all day. They didn't have to go to class. They knew what it took to get into shape."

When Widenhofer traded his defensive coordinator's job with the Steelers for the head job at Missouri in 1985, he had not even heard of the flex-bone offense. Now it appears to be a mainstay, with wide backs Tommy Stowers, Darrell Wallace, Robert Delapino and company. Last Saturday, Delapino led Missouri past Northwestern 28-3 with three rushing touchdowns.

"We were looking at a film last Sunday of Indiana a year ago and someone asked, 'was that recorded at the wrong speed,'" said line coach Steve Miller.

It was the right speed all right, only the Missouri athletes of a year ago were much slower and lacked confidence.

Missouri running back Robert Delapino rushed for three touchdowns last week against Northwestern.

This time around, however, Missouri coaches are taking strides to avoid any cockiness among their undefeated troops against Indiana.

"That was a long Saturday at Kentucky," Mallory said. "We feel like we didn't play well nor did we show any consistency. We lacked poise and it showed on the scoreboard."

Meanwhile, Indiana is looking to lay a trap in order to make it three straight over its Big Eight opponent.

The Hoosiers are 1-1 this year, the victory coming against Rice (35-13) in the season opener.

Veteran coach Bill Mallory, who won at Colorado and worked miracles at Northern Illinois, said his team was disappointed last week in Lexington and is hoping for a rebound performance against the Tigers.

"That was a long Saturday at Kentucky," Mallory said. "We feel like we didn't play well nor did we show any consistency. We lacked poise and it showed on the scoreboard."

Mallory is expecting a dogfight from Missouri.

"Missouri has the kind of people who run the ball well," he said. "They have good option quarterbacks and plenty of people to run the ball. They don't throw much, but we don't want to let them lull us into easy passes either."

Indiana has a twofold attack. Sophomore tailback Anthony Thompson has rushed 33 times for 149 yards in two games. Junior quarterback Dave Schnell has passed for 342 yards. The prime receiver is senior flanker Ernie Jones who has 14 catches for 283 yards, an average of 20.2 yards per catch.

The Hoosiers' top defensive threat is senior linebacker Van Waiters, who leads the team with 16 tackles.

Eric Moore, a 6-foot-7, 280-pound starting offensive tackle from Berkeley High School, is the only St. Louisan on the team.

Illinois' Davis back in lineup

By Jim Woodcock
Journal Staff Writer

The demeanor of the average defensive lineman is normally a bit violent, but University of Illinois senior defensive end Scott Davis was particularly anxious this summer awaiting the opportunity to hit someone in enemy colors.

Davis' attitude was understandable, considering the preseason accolades and projections for greatness that were routinely being fired his way. Most notable was the preseason honorable mention All-America recognition Davis earned from Inside Sports magazine—a small accomplishment for someone who played for a 4-7 team in 1986.

When the current season began Sept. 5 at North Carolina, though, Davis' role was reduced to spot duty. Neil Walner, once a nose tackle for the Illini, had moved into Davis' slot on the end after a superior showing during fall practices.

Davis was raving then, but now the Illini coaching staff is raving over Davis. In the Illini's 20-10 victory last Saturday over East Carolina, Davis registered 10 tackles and gathered four sacks from his left defensive end position he won back prior to Illinois' home opener Sept. 12 against Arizona State.

The effort earned Davis Big 10 Conference Defensive Player of the Week honors from United Press International. Now he's poised to rewrite Illinois' record book this fall for most tackles for loss of yards.

Davis, a reckless 6-foot-7, 267-pound senior from Plainfield, Ill., has tackled opponents for losses 28 times in his career, one shy of third place on Illinois' all-time list. If Davis can twice drop an Ohio State ball carrier behind the line of scrimmage Oct. 3 when the Illini host the Buckeyes, he will move past Kelvin Atkins (1978-81) and Mark Butkus (1960-63) into sole possession of third place.

Targeted down the road for Davis are the two Illini leaders for loss-of-yardage tackles, Don Thorp (1960-63) with 37 and John DiFeliciantonio (1974-76) with 32.

In the meantime, Davis and the Illini (1-1) will spend a weekend off from action to catch up on school work, prepare mentally for the Big 10 opener against Ohio State and rest a variety of injuries suffered in the first three games of the season.

"We had Scott Davis and (running back) Greg Turner really banged up," White said. "We had some injuries going into the East Carolina game."

"I think you can look at (a week off) a lot of different ways. Some people will say it's not a bonus because you lose the competitive edge, you lose the routine, you lose the obvious week-to-week preparation that you go through."

"We try to make the best out of it. We try to regroup academically, and we certainly can regroup physically."

A rare Saturday off also will afford the Illini a chance to take a first-hand look at Ohio State, ranked No. 7 in the latest Associated Press poll, in action against Louisiana State in a nationally televised game.

"A week off also helps you from a technical standpoint because you can begin to work on the opponent a week a little bit earlier if, in fact, you can get that kind of concentration," White said. "We've had a week off the past three or four years, and we find we go into that next game refreshed and certainly healthier."

"We find it helps us get a good start on the Big 10 season and gets the coaches even fresher up a little bit and helps their production. It's something we use as a positive. I hope it's a good sign."

NFL strike forces networks to call audibles

By Wm. Scott Simon
Journal Correspondent

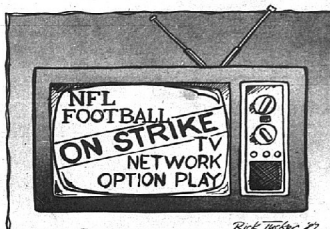

Due to the current NFL players strike, the three major television networks have had to dip into their bulgepans for quick and effective relief.

KSDK-TV, (Channel 5) spokesperson Terry Doll said that NBC-TV will rely on the strength of the late season major-league baseball pennant races to replace the regularly scheduled NFL telecasts.

NBC announced that the Cardinals-Cubs games from Chicago will be televised at 1 p.m. Saturday and 1:30 p.m. Sunday. In addition, Doll said that the Channel 5 has added today's Cardinals-Cubs clash at 1 p.m.

Should the NFL strike continue, NBC has similar plans for Oct. 4 today's regularly scheduled Channel 5 News at Noon will be seen at 11:30 a.m., while Days of Our Lives will be seen from noon to 1 p.m.

CBS-TV is relying on the popularity of January's Super Bowl match-up between the New York Giants and the Denver Broncos to draw viewers Sunday. A KMOV-TV (Channel 4) spokesperson said the program will begin at 11:30 a.m. with the NFL Today, featuring a 1-hour report on the strike, followed at 12:30 p.m. by the Super Bowl repeat. ABC-TV will have an easier time scheduling substitute programs, using premier and first-run movies during its normal Monday night slot. A KTVI-TV, (Channel 2) programming spokesperson said the network will telecast Star Trek III—In Search of Spock. Should the strike continue, similar feature-length films will be announced by the network.

Cable network ESPN, under contract to televise NFL football the last eight Sunday nights of the regular season, will provide up-to-minute reports on strike negotiations and will use syndicated programs from NFL Films this Sunday.

Spokespeople at CBS and ABC said they have been negotiating with major college football teams to move games to Sunday afternoons for television. CBS and NBC said they would televise NFL football games if substitute players were used, but a CBS spokesman said that lawyers for all three networks and ESPN have been meeting with attorneys to determine if they were obligated to televise those games.

The networks are concerned that NFL games using substitutes will draw very low ratings, possibly jeopardizing the $150 million rights fee the four networks have contracted to pay the league this year.
